THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XIX. ATLANTA, GEORGIA, TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 24, 1888. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

WILL RUN AGAIN.

Mr. Cleveland Gives Expression to His Views

AND WILL ACCEPT RENOMINATION

But Is in Favor of a Constitutional Amendment Limiting the Presidency to One Term—Other Political News.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—[Special.]—If there ever was any ground for the recent rumors that President Cleveland would write a letter declining renomination, they have now all been dispelled, for I have it from undoubted authority that while he will not seek renomination, if it be tendered him, of which there is no doubt, it will be accepted. This information is furnished me by a southern senator who, while he does not entertain similar views with Mr. Cleveland on the tariff question, is nevertheless on as intimate terms with him as any other member of that body. The senator in question was in conference with Mr. Cleveland on Saturday evening, and the president's views as they were expressed to him, are as follows:

Mr. Cleveland stands where he did when his letter of acceptance was written. He thinks there should be a constitutional amendment against a second term. He will, for this reason, make no efforts whatever for renomination, but if the democratic party should tender him a renomination, he will fulfill his duty to the party by accepting. In conclusion, the senator to whom I refer, but whose name it would hardly be proper to mention, said:

"Mr. Cleveland is undoubtedly the choice of the democratic party, and will, in my opinion, be unanimously renominated. When nominated he will feel it his duty to obey the call and will accept."

GENERAL BUSINESS MATTERS.

While the river and harbor bill was under consideration in the house today, Judge Crisp, in the absence of Mr. Norwood, asked unanimous consent to return to the Georgia section of the bill, which was passed Saturday, in order that he might offer an amendment to increase the appropriation for Savannah harbor. Objection was, however, made, and the only hope Savannah can now have is that when it goes to the senate, Senator Brown will succeed in talking on an amendment increasing the appropriation. Senator Brown is already working for this among his brother senators.

The tariff reformers in the house have come to the conclusion that the recent speech of the Texan "premier" is the greatest card they will have this session, and for that reason have already subscribed for 154,000 copies of it, with which to flood the country. Besides this they have ordered 200,000 copies of his report on the bill, which will be distributed in the same manner. They are also making efforts to have the democratic congressional campaign committee send out copies of the speech, which will probably be done, as particular pains was taken to have that composed of free traders.

Deputy Marshal Bob Mitchell, of Atlanta, is here on his return from Albany, where he went to carry a prisoner. He will remain in the city a few days.

Mr. Clements introduced two petitions today to refer the claims of Henry H. Hagan, of Paulding county, and Sallie P. Harrison, of Bartow county, for $1,090 and $2,396, respectively, to the court of claims.

Senator Brown introduced a memorial from the mayor and city council of Atlanta, asking special appropriation for the Atlanta barracks; also one from the cotton exchange, and another from the board of trade of Savannah, asking an amendment to the interstate commerce act so as to prevent unjust discrimination by underbidding. He also introduced a bill to carry out the objects of the petitioners, which was referred to the interstate commerce committee.

Mr. Candler introduced a petition from the citizens of Gwinnett county, asking the passage of the Blair bill. E. W. B.

INVESTIGATING THE TRUSTS.

Pennsylvania Railroad Officials Summoned to Give in Testimony.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house committee on manufactures today resumed its inquiry into the subject of trusts. Before taking up the inquiry Mr. Scott, representing the Pennsylvania Railroad company, read a subpena which had been served upon that company calling for the appearance of about ten of its principal officers, and the production of a large number of contracts between the Pennsylvania and other railroad companies, concerning the transportation of oil.

Mr. Scott said the subpœna must have been drawn by a person outside of the committee who desired to get information to institute a private law suit. He held that a railroad company should not be called upon for such extensive information, which would, he said, take a large number of employes to secure, and a half train of cars to transport, to Washington.

F. B. Gowen, formerly of the Reading company, then addressed the committee. He said that he had been requested by the committee, and had consented to ask as counsel for them in the prosecution of trusts and particularly the Standard oil trust. He proposed, by the information called for by the subpœna read by Mr. Scott, that railroads, and among them the Pennsylvania road had been guilty of discrimination by which the Standard Oil company had maintained a monopoly of the production of oil.

The committee had subpœnaed eight or ten officers of the Pennsylvania railroad company who could give desired information. It wished particularly to secure copies of contracts to carry oil and receipts showing rebates or allowances to any company. This information was necessary to successfully prosecute the inquiry into the subject and without it a continuance of the examination would be a farce. If the Pennsylvania had done the committee no wrong this investigation would do them no harm. He asked whether the committee would refuse to investigate the charge of discrimination, because somebody might bring a private lawsuit out of any information adduced by inquiries.

After some further discussion of the proper scope of the subpœna, the matter went over without final disposition and as none of the officers of the Pennsylvania railroad company were present. Mr. Malcolm Loyd, of Philadelphia, was sworn. He said that until recently he was engaged in an individual capacity in refining crude petroleum, at one time owning a refinery near Philadelphia. He had recently sold out his refinery to the Atlantic refining company, a branch of the Standard Oil company, and was at present in the company's employ. While in business for himself he had received rebates from the Pennsylvania company for shipments on crude oil to the refinery, but none of shipment of refined oil from his refinery. He was requested to prepare a statement of rebates he had received, for the use of the committee. Witness said he was treasurer of the Atlantic Refinery company, had held that office since January, 1888, and received a salary. Witness thought that the tendency of the times was to combine capital and do business on a large scale, and for this reason he had sold out to the Standard Oil company. He held trust certificates of that company equal in amount to the value of the property turned over by him. This closed the hearing for today.

Mr. Pendleton Improving.

BERLIN, April 23.—Advices from Weisbaden state that the condition of Mr. Pendleton, American minister, has much improved since yesterday.

BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

Taxing Rolling Stock of Railroads—Liability of Railroads for Accidents.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—In the United States supreme court today a decision was rendered in the case of Morton Marye, successor to S. Brown Allen, auditor of the state of Virginia, appellant, vs. the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, appeal from the circuit court of the United States for the western district of Virginia. The auditor of the state assessed taxes for eleven years from 1870 to 1881, amounting in the aggregate to $22,249 against the rolling stock, etc., of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. That company is a Maryland corporation, but controls certain Virginia roads by virtue of leases under which the leased roads give it their track, terminal facilities, etc., while the Baltimore and Ohio furnishes rolling stock which, however, is not assigned especially to the leased roads, but is used interchangebly over the whole system. The railroad company resisted the payment of the tax on the ground that it applied only to domestic roads, and an injunction restraining the auditor from seizing its property was issued by the circuit court. The case comes here on appeal from that court. This court holds that while it cannot be denied that the state has the power by appropriate legislation to tax the rolling stock of the company, not organized under state laws, a careful purview of the act in question shows that it was intended to apply only to domestic roads and not to outside roads doing business within the state. Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Justice Matthews.

A decision was rendered in the case of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company, plaintiff, and S. Patrick Mackey, in error to the supreme court of state of Kansas. The defendant in this case was employed by the railroad company, and was injured by the negligence of one of the company's engineers. He brought and recovered damages. In the trial the judge charged the jury to the effect that while at common law a master could not be held liable for an injury sustained by one servant through the negligence of a fellow-servant, yet that this rule had been abnegated so far as railroads were concerned by a statute of the state of Kansas, which declares that a railroad should be liable for damages done to any employe by the carelessness of a fellow-employe. The railroad company objected to this charge, but the United States supreme court upholds it, and also the validity of the Kansas law at issue, which, it declares, simply extends the doctrine that a railroad shall be liable for injury to passengers and freight to the case of employes of the road. The objection that the law deprives a railroad of equal protection of laws seems to rest upon the theory that legislation which is special in its character is necessarily within the constitutional inhibition, but nothing can be further from the fact. A great part of the legislation is special and is not obnoxious to the fourteenth amendment on that ground. The business of operating a railroad is a specially hazardous one and would seem to call for special legislation. The business of other corporations is not subject to similar dangers to their employes and no objections therefore, can be made to legislation on the ground of discrimination. It meets particularly the necessity and railroad corporations are without distinction made subject to the same liabilities.

DEBATE ON THE TARIFF.

Disagreement in the Committee as to the Length of Time Allowed.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The committee on ways and means held a long meeting this morning, but failed to finally agree upon the length of time to be allowed for general debate on the tariff bill.

The republican members of the committee asked that ten days of five hours each, or fifty hours in all, be allowed each side. The democratic members held that a shorter time would suffice if evening sessions were held for debate only. Evening sessions were not acceptable to the republicans, who argued that because of the slim attendance which characterized them as contrasted with the day sessions, the members compelled to speak at night would be placed at a disadvantage.

The differences on the subject between the majority and minority of the committee do not seem to be serious, however, as it is expected that an agreement will be reached tomorrow, when another meeting will be held.

The caucus of democratic representatives tonight brought together about 120 members. Its purpose was to receive the report of the democratic members of the ways and means committee on the result of their efforts to arrive at an agreement with their republican colleagnes as to the time to be allotted for general debate on the tariff bill. The republican ultimatum—fifty hours of daily sessions of the house for their side—was not received with favor when laid before the caucus by Mr. Mills, but a prolonged discussion, which was participated in by many members, including Messrs. Scott, Holman and Hooker, failed to result in any plan that might fairly be expected to reduce the time demanded by the republicans. An amendment to one of the resolutions, offered by Mr. Townshend, providing for the allowance of five days' debate on each side of the house, received such a scanty support that it was dropped.

The general sentiment of the caucus finally crystalized in the opinion that it would be inexpedient to attempt to limit the debate on the tariff at this time: that it would be best to resume immediately the consideration of the bill and work industriously at it, hoping that as the debate progressed the house would become wearied and be in humor to curtail it. This opinion found expression in the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this caucus that the tariff discussion shall be resumed tomorrow and continued to its conclusion, to the exclusion of other business except that night sessions may be held, and if not required for debate upon the tariff, shall be employed in current legislation. The directions heretofore given touching an amicable arrangement as to the time of debate on the tariff bill to continue in force.

CHAT FROM THE CAPITAL.

National Banks and Public Deposits—Letting of Star Routes.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Acting Secretary Thompson has transmitted to the senate, in compliance with the resolution of that body a list of national banks which are depositors of public moneys with the amount held by each on April 7th, to the credit of the treasurer. In the letter of transmittal, he informs the senate that no interest is paid by the national banks on public funds so deposited and that the place of deposit is discretionary with the secretary. The amounts vary from $40,000 to more than $7,000,000, and aggregate more than $60,000,000.

The letting of the star route mail contracts was completed today. Among the more prominent ones in the south are the following:

From Elizabeth City to Fairfield, in North Carolina, steamboat service twice a week each way, for four years; contractor, Frank N. Hussey; compensation $3,500. From Chattahoochee to Apalachicola, Fla., steamboat service three times a week each way for four years; contractor, Peter Burke; compensation $8,149 per annum. There were 1,102 contracts in all.

Senator Brown today introduced a bill intended as an amendment to the interstate commerce law. It provides that any shipper who shall misrepresent the character, weight or value of his shipment with a view securing low rates than are charged to other shippers of like property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as prescribed by the interstate commerce act. Any railrord company or common carrier which shall receive shipments knowing them to be misrepresented as above referred to, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished accordingly.

The senate today confirmed the nominations of Brigadier General George Crooke to be major general; Colonel J. R. Brooke to be brigadier general; Lieutenant Colonel C. B. Comstock to be colonel of engineers; Commander W. T. Schley to be captain and W. G. Isaacs, of Alabama, to be chaplain in the navy, and Thomas T. Tunstall, of Alabama, consul at San Salvador.

THE IROQUOIS CLUB.

Democrats Meet Around the Board.

SEVERAL LETTERS OF REGRET READ

Chairman Mills, of the Ways and Means Committee, Writes Words of Good Cheer—Other Political News.

CHICAGO, April 23.—The fifth annual banquet of the Iroquois club was held tonight on the anniversary of the birthday of Stephen A. Douglas, and plates were for 350 guests. President Newberry called the assemblage to order. Many prominent democrats from all parts of the country were present and the forced absence of Henry Watterson was the occasion of universal regret. Among the letters of regret received and read was one from George William Curtis, who wrote, among other things:

My occupations already made for the time mentioned, compel me to lose the single pleasure which you propose to me and I can only assure you of my confidence that the counsels of the Iroquis club by their patriotism and independence will greatly aid a wise, popular decision in the impending national debate of this year.

Chairman Roger Q. Mills, of the ways and means committee, communicates from Washington as follows:

We are on the eve of another great national struggle, and the occasion will be appropriate for exposing our devotion to democratic principles and our fidelity to party organization. Our president has boldly planted the colors on the field, and challenged our opponents to try the wrestle with us on the issue presented, and he has done his duty faithfully. He has made every effort to redeem the pledges we, as democrats, have given to the people to reduce taxation. He has called the attention of congress to the heavy and unnecessary burden of taxation now resting on the necessaries of life. He has urged congress to reduce rates and make them lighter. These extraordinary duties are bringing to the national treasury an excess of eighty million dollars per annum, and yet the republicans are opposing the reductions on food, cloth, and implements of labor. It is the duty of every democrat to stand by him and support him, and the Iroquis club, known all over the union for its unshaken fidelity to democratic principles, can do good service to the country by speaking out boldly in his support and in support of the democratic house who are trying to carry his recommendations into effect, and relieve the country from the pernicious results of this exhausting taxation upon articles that have to be produced and consumed by the people. If we stand bravely by the president and force fighting on the issue joined between those who favor free whisky on the one side and those who favor cheap clothing on the other, we will win a great victory. If not here, will before the people next November, and a victory that will be full of the best results to the country and to our party."

PROHIBITION IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Good Templars at Work Securing Information.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 23—[Special.]—It begins to look as if the prohibitionists are going to take a part in South Carolina politics. A prominent gentleman of this city has just received from Rev. H. F. Chritzberg, grand chief templar of the independent order of Good Templars in South Carolina, asking the following information: Number of members of each political party in the state legislature since 1870, date of the passage or repeal of every prohibition measure and every license law, with the vote on the same; expense of maintaining charitable and penal institutions, incident to intemperance as a cause of insanity and crime; the vote by which license or no license laws have been passed by the state legislature; general information as to causes and laws. This information is to be used for matter for a book soon to be issued, to show the facts and figures as to the liquor traffic in the United States. It is believed that some distinct effort is to be made to inject prohibition into South Carolina politics this year. A distinct political party cannot exist here, in opposition to the regular democratic organization. The prohibition leaders will doubtless seek to work in the primary elections in different countries, with the view to affect, if not control, the legislature.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 23.—[Special.]—The committee previously appointed to select delegates from Davidson county to the state prohibition convention, which meets in this city May 23d, met this afternoon at the office of the chairman, Mr. Geo. W. Armistead, and completed its work by appointing one hundred delegates. There are said to be several third party men in the county who are not delegates.

Democratic Senators Caucus.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Democratic senators held a caucus this morning to further discuss the fisheries treaty. It was proposed in case the republicans evinced an unwillingness to ratify the treaty to suggest that action be delayed until the fishermen should have a chance to test the provisions in actual practice but to support the treaty whenever it shall come up, and if possible secure its immediate ratification. This policy seemed to find general favor in the caucus, but not formulated into a resolution, and a vote was not taken on that or any other subject.

In Favor of Blaine.

HARRISONBURG, Va., April 23.—The republican convention of this county held here this evening, sends fifteen delegates to the state convention. They are instructed to vote against the unit rule and for John S. Wise's plan of organization. A resolution favoring Blaine for president was unanimously adopted. John F. Lewis heads the delegation.

President Cleveland Indorsed.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The Young Men's Democratic club tonight adopted resolutions indorsing Grover Cleveland as a candidate for renomination to the office of president of the United States. The sum of $4.0 was appropriated for expenses of the league's trip to Baltimore on July 4th.

Woman Suffrage Defeated.

BOSTON, April 23.—The house this afternoon, by a vote of 107 to 36, defeated the bill granting municipal suffrage to women.

BUYING THE BONDS.

Secretary Fairchild Opens Business at the Old Stand.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The secretary of the treasury today at noon opened proposals for the sale of bonds to the government under the provisions of treasury circular of April 17th. The total amount offered was $1,824,600, of which $260,000 were coupon 4s, $375,000 registered 4s, $1,152,600 registered 4½s, and $37,000 coupon 4½s. The rates ranged from 107.70 to 108⅛ for registered 4½s; from 107.70 to 107½ for coupon 4½s; from 124.70 to 125.73 for registered 4s, and from 124.70 to 125½ for coupon 4s.

This afternoon the secretary accepted the following offers: $20,000 coupon 4s at 125; $10,000 coupon and $5,000 registered 4s at 124½; $15,000 coupon and $15,000 registered 4s at 124.70; $15,000 coupon and $5,000 registered 4s at 125. All other offers were rejected.

Suit for Damages.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 23.—[Special.]—In the city court today, William R. Works filed suit against E. W. Linn and T. O. Smith, cashier and assistant cashier of the First National bank, for $50,000 damages, for false arrest and imprisonment in January, 1887. A forged check for $250 was presented at the First National bank, and Works was afterwards pointed out to the officers as the man who presented it. He was arrested and kept imprisoned about two days, when the real forger was arrested and subsequently convicted. Works sued the chief of police, the mayor, and the bank for $50,000 each, and losing those suits, he now brings one against the two officers of the bank who caused his arrest.

The Wheat Crop Damaged.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 23.—[Special.]—News has been received of a heavy and disastrous hail storm in parts of Iredell county. A heavy mass of cloud hung very low, and literally poured masses of hail upon the earth. The average depth of the hail is reported to have been a foot. Most persons believe the damage to the wheat crop will be very great.

COMMITTED FOR MONEY.

The Burning of an Old Miser's House and the Cause.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., April 23.—[Special.]—At Spring Valley, a small station on the O. K. line, about thirteen miles west of Kirksville, has lived for the last eight years E. B. Bergdall, an eccentric bachelor. He was very miserly and lived all alone in a shanty, which served as dining room, bed room and kitchen and also as a store room, for he kept a small stock of trinkets and other goods. But it seems that his chief occupation all these years has been that of selling beer and whisky, and so quietly has he done the business that the law has seldom interfered with him. About 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, his shanty was discovered on fire. When those who discovered the fire arrived at the shanty, the heat was so great that it was impossible to enter. Finally one of the young men seized a heavy rail and broke in the side of the building, when Bergdall was discovered lying on the floor enveloped by the flames. When taken out the head, arms and legs were burned off, and the body was an unrecognizable mass of charred flesh.

The old man was known to have a considerable sum of money, and there is a strong suspicion that he was murdered for his money and the building set on fire to prevent detection. The coroner's jury yesterday rendered a verdict of death at the hands of unknown parties, and the grand jury now in session here, is investigating the matter, but no clew to the perpetrators has been developed.

EATING CORN HUSKS.

A Man Who Sold His Wagon and Ate the Money Up.

WACO, Texas, April 23.—[Special.]—A most remarkable case was brought to light today by a complaint against J. Waldbaum, charging him with insanity. The complainant stated that, to his knowledge, the man had eaten nothing but husks of corn for two weeks. Waldbaum is a German, about thirty-five years old, and single, who had been an attendant on the Brazos Bottom farm, but came to Waco about three months ago with a horse and wagon. He sold his wagon to the proprietor of a cheap boarding house, for three months' board, and placed his horse in Goldsmith's wagonyard, where he ate his head off. During all this time he has occupied himself in sitting around the offices of the courthouse, and demanding of the sheriff that he turn over to him the money he claimed was due him as wages from a lawsuit. Mr. Goldsmith, the proprietor of the wagonyard, made the complaint against Waldbaum and stated that he has been sleeping in a horse trough in the wagonyard, and that all he has eaten for two weeks has been all husks of the corn he has taken from the horse troughs. He refused to answer any questions in regard to himself, but demanded the money that was due him from the judgment in his suppositious lawsuit. He has become very much emaciated from the want of foot, but was never known to ask any person for food.

LOVE'S FINAL TRIUMPH.

A Strange Story About a Georgian From a Texas Town.

WACO, Texas, April 23.—[Special.]—A singular marriage is to take place a few miles from the city in a day or two. Simpson Mann came here eighteen years ago, and has become quite wealthy. He came from Clayton county, Ga. It seems that a prospective marriage in that place had been broken up by political differences, and that the lady afterward became the wife of a Mr. Jemison. During the winter Mann revisited his home, and became enamored of the daughter of his former flame. He was to have returned and married her this week, but a broken leg rendered that impossible, so the lady has telegraphed that she will start at once and join him here.

A DISTINGUISHED CHARACTER

Whose Long Trial Has Brought Him Into Notice.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 23.—[Special.]—Colonel Jones S. Hamilton, who has become notorious by having undergone one of the longest trials in the history of Mississippi, and was acquitted last Thursday of the charge of having murdered Rhoderick D. Gambrell, on the night of May last year, was in the city today. He held quite a levee at the Peabody hotel. A great number of his friends and newspaper men called on him. He remarked to one of the latter that he had given four years of his life defending the confederacy and one year to the defense of himself, and he was glad it was over. He was a great surprise in personal appearance, and demeanor to all who saw him. He is anything but a ferocious looking terror. He is as mild as a south Mississippi breeze and as polite as a Chesterfield, and not much bigger than a minute.

Dis Debar Again.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Queer developments continue in the famous Dis Debar spiritual suit. General Dis Debar admitted this morning to a reporter that he was not the legal husband of Madame Dis Debar. He had never been divorced from his legal wife, and was not married to the "priestess." He added that he was not a general, but had received the title in the south while commanding a troop of forty men. "I am not a spiritualist," he continued, "and when we get out of this trouble she will have to give up spirits or myself." The madame heard the general's statement that she was not his wife, and she said she would return to the Marsh house when she was released.

It Is a Grave Suspicion.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 23.—[Special.] Christina Smith died very suddenly in this city on Saturday night. An inquest was held on her body, and a verdict of death from natural causes rendered. Suspicions of foul play has filled the air today, and Coroner Jackson has decided to have the body exhumed tomorrow and a post mortem examination made. There are rumors afloat that the woman was poisoned by somebody who was anxious to secure possession of her money, which amounts to $6,000.

A Bank Treasurer Arrested.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 23.—N. P. B. Wells, treasurer of Seneca Falls Savings bank, was arrested yesterday afternoon and taken to Waterloo jail. He is a defaulter and the amount of his defalcation is estimated at from $2,000 to $15,000. State Bank Examiner Richardson, who has been in Senaca Falls since Thursday, discovered the crookedness yesterday, and the arrest followed immediately. The bank is perfectly solvent. The doors are closed, but as soon as the accounts can be straightened the bank will open. Wells was under bond and the bank will not lose the amount he has stolen.

A Peculiar Accident.

CHATTANOOGA, April 23.—[Special.]—While shoeing a horse today Samuel Glass went to strike the animal with the back of a trimming knife, the blade of which caught him in the left arm and tore out the main artery a distance of six inches. The man almost bled to death before the arrival of a surgeon. He is in a critical condition tonight.

Playing With Dynamite.

MARQUETTE, Mich., April 23.—Yesterday afternoon a party of log drivers, on a log drive in Baraga county, attempted to thaw some dynamite over a cook stove in their shanty. The result was a terrific explosion, which killed three men and severely injured two others.

"SAVE THE REPUBLIC!"

Action of the Municipal Council of Paris.

WARNING THE PEOPLE OF DANGER

An Excited Debate and a Prospective Duel—Boulanger Burned in Effigy by the Students—Other Foreign News.

PARIS, April 23.—In the chamber of deputies today M. Floquet, prime minister, agreed to an immediate debate on the interpellation of Count De Martimprey, regarding the appointment of a civilian (De Freycinet) as minister of war. The count declared Floquet's action in making such appointment was revolutionary and would have a deplorable effect upon the army.

The committee of the chamber of deputies which was charged with consideration of the bill authorizing the Panama Canal company to issue a lottery loan, has appointed a new reporter and charged him to make a report to the chamber in favor of the bill.

Boulangist manifestation was made in the Quartier Latin at midnight. A party of students burned Boulanger in effigy.

A final split has occurred in the French Patriotic League, delegates refusing, by a vote of 21 to 13, to sanction the nomination by the managing committee of Paul Roulead for honorary president of the league. The group of action conjointly with Derouledе have decided to reform the league on a new basis.

In reply to the objections of Count de Martimprey to the appointment of a civilian as war minister, M. Floquet said that under the ancient monarchy there were as many civilian as military war ministers. "The count accuses us of a revolutionary act. What is more revolutionary than to force a general into political agitations." [Applause from the left center.]

The government thought that at the time when the ministry of war was taking such great steps to secure administrative, scientific and material development, it was best to secure the services of a man competent to execute their programmes. He reminded the chamber of the patriotism DeFreycinet displayed in 1870 as chief of the military cabinet under Gambetta. [Applause.] DeFreycinet declared that he had not sought the office. He assumed it at Canne without solicitation, and would reply by his acts to the accusations of incompetence. He said the national defence belonged entirely to the republicans to whom from France had been taken unarmed and beaten.

He knew his duties as war minister and would perform them with all his energy and patriotism equal to eventualities. In conclusion he said he reconed on the confidence of the chamber in order to accomplish his task.

An order of the day expressing confidence in De Freycinet was then adopted by a vote of 377 to 175.

The municipal council, after three hours violent discussion, today adopted an order of the day opposing the plebiscite, condemning the Boulangist campaign and declaring that the council is ready to place itself at the head of the people in order to save their liberties and preserve the republic. A vote of confidence in the ministry was also adopted. The council afterward discussed the motion of M. Hovelacque, demanding the immediate abolition of the presidency.

It is probable that a duel between Councilors Humbert and Hattat will result from the debate.

Hovelacque's motion was referred to a committee.

The prefect of police protested against the charge of showing levity toward Boulangists. He declared that he would suppress all riotous bands. The council resolved to accept the protest and asked the prefect to expel all anti-republican officers.

The Boulangist protest committee has issued a notice on behalf of Boulanger disowning the newspaper La Cocarde for its advocacy of his nomination for Isere and other districts, and declaring that he absolutely refuses to be a candidate. At midnight the city was quiet.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

For the Increase of Sentences in Ireland—Proceedings of Parliament.

LONDON, April 23.—A debate occurred in the house of commons this eveningon question being raised by Mr. Shaw Lefevre regarding the increase of sentences in Ireland in appeal cases.

Mr. Matthews, home secretary, being pressed admitted that in his experience there was no precedent in England similar.

Mr. Stuart asked Mr. Madden, solicitor general for Ireland, how many such cases there had been in Ireland the last decade.

Mr. Madden evaded the question as not coming before him officially.

Mr. Stuart having repeated the question three times with the same result, Sir William Vernon Harcourt asked who was responsible in the matter, and pressed for a definite answer.

At this Mr. Madden excitedly replied that he did not know, which answer was received with loud cheers by the opposition and Parnellites.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt asked who did know, and declared that he wanted this question answered, whereupon Mr. Madden promised to get the desired information.

FRANCIS JOSEPH AND VICTORIA.

The Emperor Greets the Queen on Her Way to Berlin.

LONDON, April 23.—Queen Victoria arrived at Innsbruck today, on her way from Florence to Berlin. Emperer Francis Joseph attired in the uniform of a field marshal, met her majesty at the depot, and the greeting between the two sovereigns was cordial. The train had not quite come to a full stop when the queen rose to greet the emperor, who immediately entered the car and kissed her hand, and he then offered her his arm and escorted her to a finely decorated waiting room where an elaborate luncheon was served. Prince Henry of Battenberg and his wife, accompanied the queen. In deference to the wishes of her majesty the authorities will give her no official reception on her arrival at Charlottenburg at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The empress, crown prince, Prince Henry and the Grand Duke of Baden will meet the queen upon her arrival and the party will at once drive to the castle.

The Late Emperor's Will.

BERLIN, April 23.—The National Zeitung gives details of the late Emperor William's will. The emperor left a fortune of 24,000,000 marks. Of this sum, 3,000,000 marks is bequeathed to Empress Eugusta, and 1,000,000 each to the grand duchess of Baden and the crown prince and princess and Prince Henry. Prince Henry also receives an estate, which was purchased for him, for the sum of 1,000,000 marks, by the late emperor.

A clause which was inserted in the will, in the emperor's sixtieth year, gives to Emperor Frederick, 370,000 marks, and to the grand duchess of Baden, 250,000 marks. The crown treasury receives 12,000,000 marks, and the remainder is absorbed in various bequests.

The Emperor Improving.

BERLIN, April 23.—The emperor's general condition is satisfactory. He lay on a sofa this afternoon. The swelling of the glands has decreased. For breakfast today the emperor ate some beef and fowl and an hour later he took broth and eggs. During the day he spoke cheerfully to the doctors. This afternoon he had a conference with Bismarck, lasting an hour and a half. At midnight the emperor continued to improve. His fever is decreasing.

Professor Bergmann is greatly satisfied with the progress made by the emperor. Permission to leave his bed had an inspiriting effect upon him, and Bismarck had quite a long interview with Dr. MacKenzie today.

HAIL STORM AT MOBILE.

Skylight's Shattered and Buildings Flooded—Heavy Rainfall.

MOBILE, Ala., April 23.—A hail storm of remarkable severity passed over this city and adjacent country this afternoon and was followed by a heavy rain. Hail fell an hour, covering the ground and doing great damage to fruit trees and vegetables in a section about a mile wide, extending through the country west by south. The rainfall was 2.74 inches, the greatest in so short a time ever recorded at the signal office here. Large market gardens were completely stripped of their early fruit. In this city the streets were flooded, and as the hail stopped the pipes for carrying water from the houses, many private dwellings and business establishments were badly damaged by water, including the Battle house, the water pipes of which, being in the walls, burst and overflowed, flooding many of the handsomest rooms. Almost every skylight in the city was completely riddled.

HIDING OUT A BRIDE.

A Georgia Editor's Hard Work in Getting Married.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—An interesting runaway marriage occurred here yesterday, in which Mr. John Irby, of the Lincolnton News, and Miss Kate Fowers, of this city, were the contracting parties. They have been in love for some time past, but the bride's parents objected to the match. Friday night the young lady's trunk was secretly removed from her parents' home, and Saturday night she was clandestinely taken away. Mr. Irby carried her to a private boarding house for the night, and himself went to the Planters' hotel. By sunrise the next morning he went for her with a carriage, and while they were being married at the Catholic parsonage, the bride's father and a policeman were looking for them not a square away. Not until late Sunday afternoon did the bride's parents learn of the marriage, at which time Mr. and Mrs. Irby were safe at home in Lincolnton.

AT WORK AGAIN.

The Edgar Thompson Steel Works With a Non-Union Force.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 23.—The Edgar Thomson steel works, at Braddock, Pa., resumed operations today, several hundred non-union men going to work. The Knights of Labor were early on the ground, but they kept at a safe distance from the company's property, and did not attempt to interfere with the workmen further than to quietly request them to stay away. It is their intention to remain in the vicinity of the works as long as the strike lasts, and endeavor by their presence to quietly persuade the men to come out. The strikers are very much embittered by the presence of Pinkerton men, and by the importation of a trainload of Hungarians. There are many Hungarians among the strikers. Fires have been started in all departments. Fifty bricklayers, machinists and yard engine men, who went to work this morning, quit during the forenoon.

They Imported a Preacher.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The preliminary hearing in the suit of the United States against the rector, church wardens and vestrymen of the church of the Holy Trinity for importing Rev. E. Walpole Warren to preach in that church, was heard before Judge Wallace, of the United States circuit court today. It is claimed that the importation was in violation of the central labor law and the fine provided for violation thereof is $1,000. Counsel for the church demurred to the complaint on the claim that the law was intended to cover only the "manual labor" class. District Attorney Walker admitted that the act was not the work of a trained statutory draftsmen. Only professional artists, actors, lecturers and singers are exempt by the law. Our choicest metropolitan pulpits were invaded by foreign product, while our theological universities were sending plenty of candidates for places. "It is not," said Mr. Walker, "the duty of the court to justify the wisdom of congress but simply to follow the plain meaning. The law was plainly constitutional and has been violated in the case at the bar. Judge Wallace reserved his decision.

The two young men, Horace Miles and Peter Crouse, decided to fight it out, and during the difficulty Miles, finding that his opponent was getting the best of the fight, drew a revolver and shot his antagonist through the left breast. Miles was arrested and placed in jail to await the result of the wound. Crouse is badly shot, the ball having passed clear through his body, coming out just below the left shoulder blade.

CASSIDY'S BREAK.

He Wins the Hearts of the Visiting Women

And Then Pounces Upon the Unsuspecting Guard—A Sensational Episode in the Chatham County Jail.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—About a little after midnight, Thomas Cassidy, the condemned murderer, showed that jails, though new and strong, are not therefore regarded by the inmates as impossible to break. Cassidy is under sentence for life, and has moved for a new trial. Since his conviction Cassidy has taken a religious turn. The Women's Christian Temperance union sends a committee to the jail every Friday. These ladies take tracts and scripture lessons to the prisoners. Cassidy did not pay any attention to the visitors at first, but more recently he has. One of the ladies, speaking of him, says he takes quite an interest in the lessons now. He assists other prisoners to hear their lessons. Last Friday he appeared to be almost persuadad to sign the temperance pledge, and said that he would do it. He told one of his visitors that it was whisky that brought him where he is. His face has softened of late, added the lady, and his voice is more gentle than it used to be.

His cell is on the second tier about the middle of the corridor. During the night he rattled his door and called the guard, James Dinon, who was in the corridor. Cassidy said he wanted to go the water closet. The guard unlocked Cassidy's cell door and let him out in the corridor. A few minutes later the prisoner returned, and walked into his cell. Dinon went up to close the door. As he was pushing it to, Cassidy struck him a powerful blow in the face. The guard was knocked down, and Cassidy then sprang on him with the ferocity of a wild beast. He proceeded just as the murderer of Smith on Tybee beach. This is the murder Cassidy was convicted of. He fastened his fingers around the old man's throat, and choked him until he was black in the face. Then he began beating the guard's head against the concrete floor of the corridor. He struck the old man several blows in the face with his fists, and there are marks on the face today that look as if they were made by a kick.

"Help! Help! Cassidy is killing me!" shouted Dinon at the top of his voice. A little dog outside of the corridor began barking violently. The confusion aroused Henry Hasted, a guard, who was in the office down stairs. It also aroused the other prisoners, and there was pandemonium for a moment. All called to one another to know what the trouble was. Their excited questions and answers, added to the noise. Cassidy evidently expected that Hasted would rush up the stairs and into the corridor with his keys. But the guard was alone, and did not. He jumped to the iron door separating the office from the jail, and pounded loudly on it, at the same time calling loudly for Sheriff Ronan.

In a minute or two the sheriff was down stairs. He and two or three others then entered the jail, and went up the steps to the second floor. When Cassidy heard them coming he ran into his cell muttering: "I've lost that trick too, by God." He saw it was no use to make any further fight, and he was locked in. He had taken Dinon's pistol from him, intending to shoot Hasted, but his plan was foiled.

The guard was taken to his house on Broughton street, between East Broad and East Boundary, where his wounds were dressed by a physician. His face is horribly disfigured. The marks of Cassidy's fingers are still plain on the old man's neck. His injuries, while serious, are not considered dangerous.

This morning Cassidy said to Sheriff Ronan that Dinon attacked him first, as he was going into his cell. Cassidy will hereafter be kept in close confinement, and may be put in the dark cell for discipline. This is his second attempt to break jail.

Last fall Fred Wright, a negro murderer, attacked the same guard one night, but Wright was shot and overpowered. Cassidy was in that conspiracy, too, with Ward, the safe burglar. Cassidy took no part in it, as he was in his cell at the time, but he knew of the conspiracy. Ward afterwards said to a Times reporter that Wright was too hasty, and that the attempt was not to be made that night. Cassidy was kept in close confinement for several weeks after that. The discipline was severe, and he wrote a letter to the Times about it, which was published, though not over his signature. After his sentence to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary, Cassidy's counsel, G. A. Mercer, and R. R. Richards, moved for a new trial. The motion has never been argued, but will have to be at this term of court, unless the motion is renewed. The motion is based on the ground that the verdict was contrary to the evidence. This attempt to escape has had a bad effect on the public mind and will prejudice many against him.

A prominent Bay street man, speaking of the attempted escape, said that he heard several Bay street men suggest lynching, and the speaker sanctioned it himself. There is no fear, however, that any effort will be made.

FUN AT THE FESTIVAL.

A Negro Ball Broken Up by a Murder—The Murderers Escape.

[illegible]WN, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—[illegible]ed here early this morning of a [illegible] affray, which occurred one mile [illegible] a negro festival. The parties in [illegible] Richard and William Thomas, [illegible] Alex Campbell—all colored. It [illegible] Thomas brothers were having [illegible]ith Jim Bell, colored, about a [illegible] Campbell came out and said [illegible] stop the fuss he would report [illegible]iam Thomas had been reported [illegible] by Campbell, and still had an old grudge. He answered Campbell's demand by saying: "D—n you, you reported me once before and caused me to stay off six years," and he struck Campbell with a scantling. Campbell soon recovered and knocked Thomas down with a piece of rail. Richard, William's brother, caught Campbell by the arm and stabbed him until he fell, and made an attempt to cut his throat, but was hindered by one of the bystanders, who had a gun, and said he would kill him if he touched Campbell again. Richard, in his anger, opened the breast of his shirt and told him to shoot and be d—d. The holder of the gun snapped the gun at him, but it failed to fire. Thomas brothers made their escape, and at last accounts Campbell was dying.

Davis, of this place, and pastor of the Baptist church of Madison, Ga., died yesterday at her father's home in this place. She was a lovely young lady, with bright prospects. An Inconvenient Change.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The change of schedule on the Northeastern railroad occurred today, and the morning train for Atlanta leaves Athens at 5:35. The other changes are equally inconvenient, and much dissatisfaction is manifested among the merchants, who threaten to boycott the road.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter' Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

FRUGAL FROST.

An Athenian's Invention by Which Ice Becomes as Cheap as Water.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Athens bids fair to become known to the world as the mother of inventions. But a few days ago, an Athens student astonished the scientific world with the invention of a simple substitute for the theodolyte; before the news of this event has grown dim in the memory of our readers, we chronicle the completion of a more important invention—one that is destined to revolutionize one of the industries of the country, and that will put thousands of dollars in the pockets of the inventor.

The invention consists of an apparatus which occupies no more space than a sewing machine requires, and is comparatively simple in construction. It is very unpretentious in appearance, and nothing is exposed to view but an iron reservoir, a metal wheel and crank, a glass receiver and a few tubes and gauges. Yet this little instrument is covered by patents in every civilized government, and has cost its inventor thousands of dollars and years of time. And what is it to accomplish? A gallon of water in the receiver, a turn of the crank eight minutes, and you have ten pounds of glistening, crystal ice.

The machine that accomplishes all this is the "Zero" ice making machine, and was invented by Mr. Loyd Williams, a former resident of Athens, but who went to Manchester, England, to perfect the invention.

Mr. Williams will be remembered by visitors to Athens as the former manager of the Commercial hotel. He has always been of a mechanical turn of mind, and while in Athens invented an ingenious machine for renovating feathers. When his invention was patented he carried it to Atlanta and established a renovating house on Mitchell street. He was particularly successful with his venture, but during the whole of his stay in Atlanta his mind never lost the cherished idea of his ice machine. Finally he returned to Athens and went to work again upon his invention. Several difficulties that troubled him were at last overcome and he had cast at the Athens foundry a model of his machine. This was tested and he found that ice could be made rapidly by his process. Much difficulty was, however, experienced in obtaining a faultless casting for his vacuum pump and an acid proof absorber for sulphuric acid. Mr. Williams associated with him in his labors Mr. Archie Connacher, of Augusta, at that time superintendent of the phosphate works in that city. Every means was tried to perfect the invention, and an old room of the Commercial hotel contains the numberless evidences of their unceasing efforts. Acting upon the advice of Mr. William Williams, father of Mr. Loyd Williams, the inventors carried their model to England, where they hoped to secure suitable castings. In a letter from the inventor to Mr. Williams THE CONSTITUTION's correspondent read the story of their success. The machine has been perfected and patented and accomplishes wonders beyond the hopes of its inventors. Accompanying the letter was a photograph of the model with the ice forming under the glass receiver. The principle employed in the manufacture of the ice is known as the vacuum process, and neither ammonia nor freezing salts of any kind are used. Sulphuric acid is the only chemical employed, and as there is absolutely no wastage of material one gallon of the acid will last for months.

But the practical importance of the invention is derived from the fact that the ice can be made in less than ten minutes at a cost of less than a fifth of a cent per pound. The original outlay for the machine will be the only expense in making ice, and every family can have a machine in the kitchen, ready at a moment's notice and at no expense to manufacture from one to three hundred pounds, as desired. It is difficult to estimate the importance of this invention and its completion marks the beginning of an era when the heat of summer will be moderated for all, and when the ice that cools the fevered lips of the pauper patient will be as plentiful as the crystal blocks that frost the gold-throated bottle of the prince as he sips his frapped cliquot.

Memorial Day in Bainbridge.

BAINBRIDGE, April 23.—[Special.]—The ladies are preparing to properly observe Memorial Day in this city. They have never let one pass unnoticed since the Memorial to the confederate dead was first established by the women of the south. Of the orators from abroad and at home who have dwelt upon the immortal theme, by invitation of the ladies we might mention Colonel John C. Rutherford, of Macon; the late Judge W. O. Fleming, Colonel D. McGill, Hon. D. A. Russell, Hon. A. L. Hawes, Hon. John E. Donalson, Ben E. Russell, of Bainbridge; Dr. J. D. Hoyl, of Dawson; Lott Warren, of Americus; Rev. J. R. McCleskey, of Sandersville; Hon. S. G. McLendon and Colonel W. M. Hammond, of Thomasville; and I almost forgot to mention Hon. Charles J. Munnerlyn, ex-congessman in the confederate congress, and Judge C. G. Campbell, of this city.

The ladies have invited Hon. Ben E. Russell to deliver the address on the 26th, and Miss Cenilla Bower, one of the most talented and accomplished young ladies in Georgia, delivers a recitation. The music—and it will be superb—will be under the direction of Mrs. John E. Donalson. In fine, the programme will be one of the most perfect ever gotten up here. Mrs. J. S. Desvergers is the president of the Memorial association, and has been for several years. Her brother, the gallant Sam Sanborn, was killed at Murfreesboro, while riding almost into the very mouth of the cannon.

Decatur county contributed near 1,200 men to the confederate armies, and her Bainbridge Independents, of the First Georgia, was probably the first company in Georgia to offer their services to Governor Brown.

A Big Sunday Occasion.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—On the 4th of May there will be a grand Union Sunday school picnic at beautiful Green Shade, in this county, on the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad. Thousands of people are expected, as the railroad will give nominal rates to and from the grounds. The Sunday schools will come from a hundred miles around.

Religious Meetings in Waycross

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A series of religious meetings conducted by Mr. Williams of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Wynne, of Macon, are under full headway. These meetings are adapted to all classes of people and denominations. Many conversions have been noted and the people are manifesting great anxiety for the cause of Christ.

The Religious Revival.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The religious revival continues to create interest and much good is anticipated from the meetings. Sam Jones is expected in Athens soon, and the Rt. Rev. Bishop Beckwith is to hold confirmation service within a few weeks. Rev. T. M. Harris is expected to deliver a series of sermons at the Christian church during next month.

The Faceville Methodist Church.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The Faceville Methodist church was dedicated last Sunday by Rev. J. W. Hinton, the presiding elder of the district. His sermon was a masterpiece of pulpit oratory.

Replaced by Brick.

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The two lots owned by C. J. Blackshear and Mrs. E. Oleman, made vacant by the recent fire, account of which appeared in THE CONSTITUTION, will soon be covered again by the erection of a large brick building by Mr. Blackshear. The Oleman lot has been purchased, and the building is to cover both lots. The shanties between the Oleman lot and the Baptist church have also been torn away and will be reconstructed.

A Compliment to Jones.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—At the democratic mass meeting last Saturday the following resolution was enthusiastically adopted:

Whereas, our fellow-citizen, Mr. Alex R. Jones, is a candidate for solicitor general of this circuit; be it

Resolved, That we, the democracy of Thomas county, heartily indorse him for said office, and we commend him to the members of the general assembly as being eminently qualified for the place.

Recommended For Judge.

ALBANY, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The grand jury here recommended the reappointment of his honor, B. B. Bower, as judge of the Albany circuit. John D. Pope is recommended as solicitor.

In 1850 "Brown's Bronchial Troches" were introduced, and their success as a cure for Colds Coughs, Asthma and Bronchitis has been unparalleled.

THE GEORGIA BAPTISTS

The Close of the Brunswick Convention.

The Members Enjoy Their Reception and Leave With Warm Feelings—A Lively Session in Point of Work.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The Georgia Baptist convention, or a fragment thereof, is in session. Sandersville, Cuthbert, LaGrange, Marietta and Gainesville are asking for the next session. It was decided to go to Marietta. An excursion to Fernandina, Jacksonville and St. Augustine left Brunswick this morning, carrying a large majority of the delegates and visitors.

Yesterday the churches were well filled and enjoyed highly the sermons preached by representatives of the convention. Special commendation is paid to the sermons of Drs. Tucker and Hawthorne. At night an overwhelming crowd attended the memorial of Dr. Mell. The speakers were Turnard, Thomas, Ryalls, Battle and others. The reports on deceased ministers, state of religion, our relation to the colored people, aged ministers increased funds and temperance, were read, discussed and adopted.

Resolutions of thanks to the citizens of Brunswick, churches, hotels, railroad lines, steamboat companies, the local press, etc., for courtesies, were passed. The meeting has been a very pleasant one, and the reports on the various branches of work shows steady progress from year to year. The delegates and visitors have been handsomely entertained. The members leave here with the most favorable impression of Brunswick, her people, and her future probabilities. More than 300 buildings are going up now. It was unquestionably wise for the convention to come to Brunswick, the Baptists being feeble here needed the strength that comes from recognition.

The convention adopted resolutions of sympathy for the Baptists of Brunswick, and commended their enterprise of building a large, commodious and modern house of worship to the denomination over the state. Through this recognition, the Brunswick Baptists hope to obtain substantial aid outside their own limits for this purpose. The mayor of the city, Mr. D. T. Dunn, declares that he would not take $500 for Dr. Hawthorne's sermon, of yesterday. The address of Mr. Strickland, before the historical society, was highly appreciated, and a unanimous vote of thanks was passed, with request that a copy be furnished the Christian Index for publication. The spirit of fellowship and brotherly love evinced during the meeting has been remarkable. The words of the psalmist have been worthily illustrated: "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity." Adjourned sine die.

A pleasant excursion went to St. Simon's island and returned this evening.

TWENTY THOUSAND AT STAKE.

A Trial in Which General Jackson is Interested.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—In the United States circuit court is going on tonight a trial before Judge Speer, setting in chancery in the case of Alex. Crumbie and others vs. Henry R. Jackson. The compainants, who reside in England, are suing General Jackson for about $20,000, which they allege he holds for them as trustee. General Jackson's answer admits that he recovered the money in a suit which he brought against the late George W. Anderson, and he was appointed by the United States circuit court in place of Mr. Anderson to take charge and manage the fund for the beneficiaries under a will of a Mr. Scott, made in 1829. He claims that the children who are suing are not entitled to the corpus of the estate until after the death of a Mrs. Mary Stuart Scott McKenzie who has a life interest in the income. The complainants are represented by Captain Geo. A. Mercer and the defendants by Captain Henry Jackson and ex-Senator Barrow.

UNSAVORY SEWERS.

The Possible Approach of Asiatic Cholera Awakens Athens to Sanitary Protection.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The sewerage system of Athens is not in as good condition as might be wished, and in view of the expected invasion of the United States by the Asiatic cholera during this year, something should be done towards the improvement of our sanitary condition. Some of the citizens are complaining of the odors emitted by the sewers at night, and the doctors say sickness will ensue if the system is not remedied. The policy of the Athens waterworks company is not a particularly generous one, but some legislation should be made looking toward the regular flushing of the sewers. Athens is naturally one of the healthiest cities in the south, but we cannot afford to rely too much on our natural advantages for exemption from disease.

"IZE GREME KA-UCK."

The Howl of the Vendor is Heard on the Hills of the Classic City.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—With the approach of summer has come the familiar cry of "ize greme ka-uck," and Athens is full of the two wheeled carts of the ice cream peddler, whose howl is the motive music of the early riser and the lullaby of the tired citizen who sinks to rest after a day spent in a fruitless endeavor to dodge the ubiquitous carts. While we have no particular objection to the sale of these tempting slabs of frozen indigestion, it would be well for the city council to pass an ordinance requiring these carts to keep to the streets and insisting that pedestrians shall not be crowded off the sidewalks by the muddy-wheeled and negro-impelled vehicles.

Local Talent in Milledgeville.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The beautiful little comedy, entitled "Everybody's Friend," was presented to a splendid house by the Milledgeville Amateur Dramatic club at Amusement Hall last night. The house was crowded to its fullest capacity and the galleries were comfortably filled. The play was presented for the benefit of the Milledgeville Light Infantry who gave a splendid exhibition of drilling just before the curtain rose. In the drill Captain Mathewson, who led the college cadets to the state championship last year, commanded and the drill was certainly creditable to both the young soldiers and their instructor. After the drill the curtain rose and the play commenced. The cast was as follows: Mr. G. C. Smith as Felix Featherly; Mr. Ed Wynne as Frank Icebrook; Colonel Mat Greene as Major Wellington de Boots; Mr. H. W. Compton as Trap; Mr. T. Treanor as Gardner; Miss Fannie Price as Mrs. Featherly; Miss Annie Treanor as Mrs. de Boots; Miss Laura Paine as Mrs. Swandown; Miss Vivia Taylor as cook. Each actor handled the part given them in a creditable manner and the unanimous verdict of the audience was that the Amateur club presented one of the best performances seen in this city this season. It would be difficult to say whose part was the better personated and but just to the club to say that their stage performance is superior to that of a majority of professional troupes. They begin to rehears another play immediately, and with additional members will show what splendid dramatic talent this city possesses.

Simon Marks Buried.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.—The body of Mr. Simon Marks was interred this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and a large concourse of friends followed the remains to their final resting place. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Korn.

The Terrell County Cock Fight.

ALBANY, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The cocking main between Terrell and Lee counties opened today. Fifteen out of twenty-one cocks were matched. In the first fight Lee defeated Terrell. Bill Sneed, of Columbus, whipped three straight hack fights.

Returned to Her Home.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. W. A. Ham and her daughter, Miss Nettie Ham, who have been spending the winter in Thomasville, have returned to their home in Boston, Mass.

It is your duty to yourself to get rid of the foul accumulations in your blood this spring. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to purify, vitalize and enrich your blood.

PERSONS AND THINGS.

Such as Are Seen and Caught Up on the Streets of Macon.

MACON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Officer Palethrope, while in Atlanta last week, was so unfortunate as to lose his badge. To the pedestrian who, in weariness of mind, at midnight trod his way homeward, it was more than a sign of comfort to see far up the street a glittering shield from behind which officer No. 14 was wont to be. But now things are changed—No. 14 is lost, and in its place reclines a 6, which bears marks that are foreign to its supporter.

This officer while on his beat near the depot last evening about nine o'clock, heard two sharp reports not unlike that of a pistol coming from the direction of the old Macon and Augusta depot. Quickly taking a large amount of wind, he ran to the spot and diligently sought the territory, but all was still. While returning to his post he found laying on the track two torpedo shells. The cause of the noise was thus explained, but the owner of the shells could not be found.

This morning at the depot a countryman walked into the waiting room, which was crowded, carrying in a very tender manner a sack. After finding a suitable seat he opened it and from its depths exhumed an old "war time fiddle." This he tuned and tuned, until the strings vibrated to suit his ear, then he "rosined" his bow. The lookers on at this juncture held their breath and awaited results. He arose from his seat, and stretching his arm at full length with the bow in his hand drew a circle in the air, and then quickly touching the strings commenced to play a regular "old plantation tune." The effect was magical. From the waiting room assigned to the negroes came a perfect stream of open-mouthed coons. From the sidewalk another stream. Officer Garfield from a distance saw the gathering crowd, and fearing that something was up, went to the rescue. At his approach he heard the violin scraping, which sounded like the shrieks of a tortured victim. He cleared the crowd, and to his disgust found that his chance for winning fame ended in a single "air." The countryman was told to hush it up; he did so by going into his car, and recommenced. As the train pulled out the depot, the strains of "Chicken in the Bread Tray" came floating out of the window.

A CONSTITUTION reporter was shown a large red rose today that measured four and one-half inches in diameter, making it nearly fourteen inches in circumference. It was grown in the garden of Mrs. J. W. Hines, on Walnut street. It belongs to a variety seldom seen in this climate. The perfume which it emitted was delicious.

Mr. Charles Herbst has just received a boat from Racine company which is a beauty. Mr. Herbst keeps the boating interest of central Georgia at a high temperature.

The Young Men's Christian Association.

MACON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Since the state convention met in our city, the Y. M. C. A. here has grown in favor with the business men and in popularity with the young men. New members are coming in daily, and they expect to increase their membership to one thousand by the end of the present year.

The business men are subscribing generously to the work, aiding the association and at the same time assisting in making better and purer men of the boys and young men who are growing in their midst. They can be assured if they will stand by the work it will prove a profit to the city, and if they give the work their support, God will honor them.

Never since the organization of our association has such progress been made in the social, intellectual, physical and spiritual lives as the last few months have witnessed. The directors have been full of zeal and enterprise.

Especially has the work in the spiritual line increased. Many young men have recently confessed Christ and joined the church of their choice. The meetings Sunday afternoon have grown very much in interest, and the hour is profitably spent. Dr. E. W. Warren led the meeting on last Sunday and a great impression was made by his address. After the address thirty young men testified for Christ, and as soon as the invitation to those who desired prayer was given; many were on their feet manifesting their desires for prayer. One took a decided stand for the Lord.

The Bible training class, which meets every Monday night, is another good feature of the work. About twenty young men and workers meet together with the aim to gain such a knowledge of and proficiency in using God's word as to be efficient in leading young men to salvation.

The Pipe of Peace.

MACON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—For over fifteen years, perhaps longer, there has been stretched across the sidewalk in front of boarding house, on Walnut street, a large iron pipe, which protruded three or four inches above the level of the ground, causing hundreds of pedestrians to "stump their toes," and utter very appropriate remarks, according to the severity of the "stump." But still the pipe lay there. About two years ago a young lady while passing this place, unconscious of the pipe, tripped over it, falling on her side in such a manner as to sprain her foot. She was taken to her home, the family physician sent for and all medical aid that could be had was obtained, but still she suffered. At the advice of numerous friends she sued the city for $10,000, and at the last term of the court won the case. This is only one instance of such accidents that weekly happen. But still the pipe lay there. Last Wednesday the city street force drew up in array at this famous spot, and after much discussion as to how long it lay there, removed it. People passing that way now are seen to raise a foot to step over the vacant place in reverence.

Death of Mrs. Milo S. Freeman.

MACON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Today at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Milo S. Freeman died at her late residence, on Forsyth street. She has been sick but a short while, about eight days, and her condition was not thought to be serious until last night. Mr. Mat Freeman arrived from Washington City last Friday night, being summoned here by a telegram, and as she seemed better was to return the next day, but she became worse, so he postponed his departure. She leaves a loving husband, and five grown children.

Closed in Respect.

MACON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The Southern express office was closed this morning from 10 to 11 o'clock, in respect to the memory of the late William B. Dinsmore, president of Adams' Express company, whose funeral occurred at that time. The office was appropriately decorated. On the door was tacked a notice stating the facts.

THE FIRST DISTRICT RACE.

Mr. Norwood Returns to Savannah—His Two Opponents.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Congressman Norwood's presence in the city has started up the talk about the coming campaign. Mr. Norwood came from Washington here to look after a case in the United States court, in which he is counsel. The case has been continued until Wednesday, and the representative has a little leisure time to confer with his political friends. They expect opposition from Colonel W. W. Gordon, of this city, and ex-Congressman John C. Nicholls, of Pierce county. Both of these are in the race to stick. With no other entries, this will give a a triangular fight. Solicitor-General duBignon and Judge Adams have been set down as candidates, but friends of both state that they are not in the field. It is not to be assumed that either one would refuse to close his fingers on the nomination if it were placed in his hand. Captain Gordon and Mr. Nicholls have been electioneering throughout the district in a right lively way of late. Today Mr. Norwood is taking a turn at it himself, and the shelling of the woods has begun in earnest. Captain Gordon met with very encouraging success, it is reported, on his recent visit to Tattnall and some others of the interior counties. His friends down in Glynn have been working for him too. Judge Adams persists in refusing to enter the race. It is firmly believed that the coming legislature will make him of one of the two supreme court judges, who will doubtless be added to the present bench.

The Quarantine Against Florida.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A circular was received by Health Officer Bruner and Dr. J. H. White, United States marine hospital service, this morning from Surgeon-General Hamilton, at Washington, in which he says: "A late inspection at Incanopy, Plant City and Bartow has proved the recent existence of yellow fever there, and that several other points in the southern and western portion of the state of Florida are to be looked upon as suspicious." In case a quarantine is established at Jesup or Waycross this week some of the returning excursionists who left this morning may find themselves compelled to remain over at the station for a short time.

Temperance in Decatur.

DECATUR, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A temperance mass meeting was held in the Methodist church last night. There being no services in the other churches an unusual large crowd was in attendance. Addresses were made by Rev. A. G. Haygood, of the Methodist church, and Rev. Hugh K. Walker, of the Presbyterian church. An announcement was made that the ladies would meet at the Methodist church this afternoon to organize a ladies' temperance association.

He Was Badly Mangled.

ATHENS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Mr. Andrew Lipscomb, son of Dr. A. A. Lipscomb, of the university, was severely injured on yesterday. Mr. Lipscomb is engaged in the construction of a railroad in south Georgia, and while engaged with some mules had his leg badly mangled, and the injury is so severe that the limb may be lost.

The Texas Celebration.

A FEW MORE PRIVILEGES ARE FOR SALE in the beautiful and spacious encampment grounds, specially prepared for the great military and musical celebration, to be given at Austin, Tex., from May 14 to 19, in honor of the dedication of the grandest state house in the union. Between 75,000 and 100,000 people will be present to witness the famous and brilliant attractions crowding every hour of the week of this magnificent celebration, day and night inside; the grounds brilliantly illuminated and close to the city. Gilmore's great band and Pain's world-renowned fireworks are only two of a hundred similar star attractions that have been secured. Money speaks louder than words. At the first sale of privileges, April 2, on the grounds, the exclusive beer privilege sold for $5,150 cash, and over $11,000 in cash was realized in the sale of hardly half the privileges. The remaining privileges are for sale, either by letter bids addressed to the undersigned, or at the second public sale to take place in the city of Austin, May 2, 1888.

The exclusive right to have one or four barrooms on the grounds is still for sale, which carries with it the right to sell lemonade, bottled soda and other mineral waters across the bar. The attention of saloon men is called to this rare chance to coin big money, and correspondence is solicited.

Among other privileges still for sale are the following: Restaurants, cold lunch, lemonade, ice cream, native wine, native mineral waters, bottled soda and mineral waters, vichy; opera glasses for three immense grand stands, gents' furnishing goods, dry goods, jewelry, confectionery, photograph gallery, photo souvenirs, stationery, bound books, Chinese and Japanese curiosities, drug store, piano store, ladies bazaar, perfumery, flowers, umbrellas, handkerchiefs, pecans and other nuts, except peanuts, chile con carne, tamalas and other Mexican dishes, and every other conceivable kind of privilege not already disposed of.

The price for right to sell, or for space on the grounds for selling any kind of article, or for conducting any sort of business, will be sold also for such attractions as museums, side shows, exhibitions of any kind, shooting gallery, cane racks, doll babies, flying horses, visiting cards, telescopes, knives, knife boards, balloons, weighing, lifting and striking machines, lung testers, hot pan candy, gum drops, etc., etc.

For further particulars about this, the grandest celebration ever witnessed in the great southwest, apply to Jno. T. Dickinson, Secretary, Austin, Tex.

SNUFFING THE "DUCKS"

A Bill to Prevent the Sale of Cigarettes

To District of Columbia Boys Under Sixteen Years of Age—Proceedings of the Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Mr. Chace presented petitions signed by 257 physicians, 86 pastors of churches, and 554 superintendents, officers and teachers of public schools of the District of Columbia, asking legislation to prohibit the sale of cigars, cigarettes, or tobacco to boys under sixteen years of age. He said that signers of the petitions had investigated the subject with great care, and had become impressed with the belief that the matter was very grave and serious. Mr. Stewart added that the use of cigarettes was destroying the rising generation, and affecting injuriously the prosperity of the country. The petitions were ordered printed as a public document.

The senate joint resolution providing that public lands in Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas, now subject to private entry, shall be disposed of according to provisions of the homestead laws only until the pending legislation affecting such lands shall be disposed of or until the present session of congress adjourn, was reported from the committee. Passed.

The conference committee on the house joint resolution accepting the invitation of the French republic to take part in the international exposition at Paris, in 1889, was ordered, and Senators Sherman, Evarts and Brown were appointed.

On motion of Mr. Call, the house substitute to the senate bill for a light or lights and other aids to navigation to guide to Charlotte harbor, Florida, was concurred in.

The bill prohibiting pool-selling or bookmaking in Washington or Georgetown, was passed.

[It does not embrace the entire District of Columbia, and it is said was affirmed so as to exclude from its provisions the race track at Ivy City.]

The bill to forfeit certain lands granted to railroads was taken up, discussed for a time and laid aside without action, and the "animal industry" bill was taken up.

Mr. Palmer, who is in charge of it, offered a substitute for it, which had been got up, he said, in conjunction with a distinguished member of the judiciary committee.

The substitute having been read was ordered printed, and the bill was laid aside until tomorrow.

The international copyright bill was then taken up.

Mr. Chace, who has charge of the bill, made a statement in its support. It came before congress, he said, under very different auspicies from any previous bill on the same subject. Formerly, there had been opposition, either because of something contained in the bill or of something omitted from it. This bill, however, commanded the united, harmonious support of every interest connected with the subject—authors, publishers and printers. The purpose sought to be accomplished by it was to secure foreign authors, compilers and artists the same privilege of copyright as was granted by the United States statutes to American authors and artists.

After stating the terms of copyright laws in other countries, he said that the American people were buccaneers on the great ocean of literature.

Mr. Morrill offered an amendment to insert the following proviso:

Provided, That the publishers of newspapers or other periodicals in the United States shall be allowed to copy in their publications any articles that may appear in newspapers or other periodicals of any foreign country; and for that purpose (but not for sale) shall be allowed to import such newspapers and other periodicals.

Mr. Vance moved to insert a proviso that newspapers, magazines and periodicals shall not be entitled to a copyright.

Mr. Beck suggested why not have free trade as regards books among all countries. Then the American people would get books cheaply, and everybody would be protected at home and abroad. That would be fair all around.

Mr. Chace—Perhaps that might be done, if foreign countries would agree to it.

Mr. Beck—Suppose we make the offer to them that everything of theirs will come in free if they will allow everything of ours to them free?

Mr. Chase—Is the senator prepared for that?

Mr. Beck—Yes.

Mr. Chace—Will you extend that to all kinds of property?

Mr. Beck—To free books.

Mr. Chace—This "red rag" of free trade and protection, which is disturbing the senator, has no more to do with the bill than it has with the approach of the next comet. The most ardent advocates of the bill were the strongest free traders. Of course books could be got cheaper if they were stolen; but, if the law does not impose a penalty for such theft, the penalty is still inevitable.

The bill went over without action till tomorrow.

On motion of Mr. Call the senate bill to change the limit of appropriation for the public building at Key West to $175,000 and appropriating the additional sum of $67,000 was taken from the calendar and passed.

After executive session, the senate adjourned.

GENERAL RICKETT'S WIDOW.

The House Passes the Senate Bill Granting Her a Pension.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The speaker laid before the house an invitation to participate in the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington, to be held in New York, April 30, 1889. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

The pending business coming over from the Friday night session was the senate bill granting a pension of $100 a month to the widow of General James B. Ricketts, with an amendment reducing the rate to $75. Mr. Cheadle, of Indiana, opposed the bill, as it was still further extending liberal discrimination in favor of the widows of officers and against the widows of private soldiers. It was time that the house should call a halt in the enactment of special pensions. The officers of the army had not made all the sacrifices; the men of the musket had made the sacrifices necessary to save the life of the union.

Mr. Bland, while in favor of liberal pensions to widows of soldiers who lost their lives during the war, or who died from wounds received in service, was opposed to singling out those moving in the aristocratic circles for special gratuity.

Mr. Randall eulogized the services of General Ricketts in the Mexican, Semmole and civil wars, and stated that his widow, who would be a recipient of a pension, had rendered the service of nurse for many months among the union prisoners of Libby prison.

Mr. O'Neill, of Pennsylvania, thought that no more gallant soldier ever lived than General Ricketts, and he bore testimony to the humanity and kindness which Mrs. Ricketts had always displayed toward veterans of the war.

The amendment was adopted, and the bill as amended passed.

Under call of the states, resolutions were introduced and referred directing the committee on merchant marine and fisheries to make a sweeping investigation into the Alaska fur seal fisheries, and calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information upon the subject of these fisheries.

By Mr. Springer, of Illinois, a concurrent resolution for the appointment of a joint senate and house committee, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the best method of relieving congress from the consideration of private measures of all kinds.

By Mr. Simmons, of North Carolina, for the appointment of a committee to inquire into the intellectual and industrial progress of the colored race since 1865.

This being the day devoted to the consideration of bills relating to the District of Columbia, Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, moved that the house go into committee of the whole upon such measures. But friends of the river and harbor bill defeated the motion—yeas 55 nays 166.

Mr. Hemphill yielded to the expressed sentiment of the house and surrendered the floor, and the house then went into committee of the whole upon the river and harbor bill.

The amendment to increase the appropriation for Arkansas pass, Texas, from $100,000 to $150,000 was lost.

Mr. Beutelle, of Maine, criticized and Messrs. Crain and Stewart, of Texas, defended the scheme of improvement of Galveston harbor, and the amount expended there.

Mr. Foran, of Ohio, offered an amendment increasing from $75,000 to $150,000 the appropriation for the harbor of Cleveland, Ohio.

Pending discussion upon this amendment, the committee rose and the house at 5:15 adjourned.

A democratic caucus was announced to meet at 8 o'clock this evening.

HE SAVED HER LIFE.

Curious Sequel to a Rescue—The Reward of Courage.

Almost every summer the newspapers chronicle the rescue of this or that man or woman from a watery grave, the majority of such cases taking place at seaside resorts, and while one or both parties are bathing. In most instances the only reward the rescuer got was, "Thanks, awfully kind of you." He goes his way with the conscious knowledge of doing right and a likelihood of a lasting bronchitis or asthma from the wetting.

In this instance, however, Mr. James Stroud, of Boston, Mass., who at Long Branch nobly rescued Miss Helen Davidge, of St. Louis, not only received hearty thanks from father and daughter, but has now received the still greater reward of Miss Davidge's hand. They say, "Pity is akin to love," and surely gratitude isn't far behind.

But if every lifesaver received a reward approximate to the number of lives saved, and the peril in which they were at the time of saving, what glories and honors would be due to the Scotch Oats Essence Company, of New York. Not only has their great remedy saved thousands from death, built up and cemented the reputation of many a physician, and earned for him his patients' lasting gratitude, but it has cheated the insane asylum of many a promising victim. Nor is it from adults alone that comes its praise, but from many a little one's dumb eyes that cannot yet speak, whose tender life has been snatched from the grip of convulsions, infantile paralysis, lock-jaw and the like.

Scotch Oats Essence is the greatest nerve and brain tonic ever given to the word, and its fame grows with every day and year of its existence.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunates are painfully acute, and impinged by abrupt, unexpected noises, lead them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping-jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is nonassimilation of the food, and consequently innutrition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorate the stomach and enables it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, nightly repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The Bitters also cure fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.

An Interesting Article.

The May Century is to have an article by Colonel William F. Fox, who has given much attention to the subject, on "The Chances of Being Hit in Battle." It is not to be a technical paper, but one calculated to interest the general reader, and some of Colonel Fox's statements will surprise the old soldiers. A regiment that went to the front 1,000 strong and came back with only 100 men is generally thought to have left the majority of its members on the field of battle, but the statistics show that in round numbers the regiment lost 100 men killed; that 200 men died from disease; that 400 men were discharged for sickness or wounds; that 100 men deserted; that 100 men were absent in hospital and furlough, and so only 100 remained at muster out. Of the 2,000 regiments in the union army in only forty-five were there more than 200 men killed and mortally wounded. On the northern side the number killed was five per cent of those engaged in battle, a greater percentage, Colonel Fox shows, than that of the Crimean or Franco-Prussian wars.

A Successful Cotton Planter.

Your Uncle Primus Jones is again making arrangements to send the first bale of the new crop of cotton to market. His first planting was made in January and this was killed outright. His next planting was made during the first week in February, and the other day he carried to the office of the Albany News and Advertiser a stalk of cotton nine inches high which bore an incipient bloom known as a square.

This stalk was taken from a field containing one hundred and fifty acres of just such cotton. Mr. Jones, who is a farmer of many years experience, says that he has never before seen squares on cotton in the month of April. Heretofore, the earliest date on which he has observed a cotton square was the 10th of May, but he has improved on his observation, and is now able to show squares on the 21st of April.

Mr. Jones informed the reporter of the News and Advertiser, to whom he exhibited his cotton plant, that the field from which it was taken was "chopped" out and brought to a stand during the last week in March. It has already been hoed twice and plowed over twice. It is fertilized very highly, and Mr. Jones expects to get a very early bale from it.

He has exercised great care in improving his planting seed from year to year, and he attributes his success in marketing early cotton largely to this fact. He saves the seed from the first cotton that opens, and he says it is a fact observed by his neighbors that his cotton, planted when they plant theirs, always matures from two to three weeks in advance of theirs.

In the course of his talk to the News and Advertiser, Mr. Jones remarked that he always plants his crop for all he can get. Last year he made twenty-eight bales to the mule, and he is satisfied that he ought to do better. He is practicing the intensive system of farming and he says it is the only sensible way of cultivating the soil.

The fact also crops out in Mr. Jones's interview with the reporter of the News and Advertiser that he has not been sending early bales to market merely for the sake of the notoriety of the thing. His hobby for raising early cotton is based on his experience with the crop, and he has demonstrated to his own satisfaction that the sooner cotton is forced to maturity in his section of the state the larger the yield.

He is convinced that early cotton is less liable to be hurt by the disasters that annually overtake the crop in more southern latitudes. His experience is that caterpillars never destroy the fields that are well advanced, and that the autumnal storms do not find so much open cotton to blow out and stain. Mr. Jones has therefore pursued a policy of persistently planting early, manuring highly and working rapidly.

Here, then, is a happy theory pushed forward by a man of energy and action, and the combination is as irresistible in farming as it would be in any other business.

THE New York Sun thinks that the proposition to build an elevated railroad on Broadway is "a scoundrelly scheme." This is strong language—too strong, indeed, when it is borne in mind that the entire republic is interested in rapid transit on Broadway.

The Cotton Movement.

The New York Financial Chronicle, in its weekly review of the cotton movement, says that for the week ending Friday, the total receipts have reached 27,980 bales, against 28,504 bales last week, 39,563 the previous week and 33,396 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the first of September, 1887, 5,190,084 bales against 5,107,013 bales for the same period of 1886-87, showing an increase since September 1, 1887, of 78,071 bales.

The exports for the week reach a total of 34,312 bales, of which 20,603 were to Great Britain, 2,172 to France and 11,537 to the rest of the continent. The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 230,000 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up 5,754 bales, including 4,050 for export, 1,704 for consumption.

The imports into continental ports have been 45,000 bales. There has been a decrease in the cotton in sight of 57,901 bales as compared with the same date of 1887, an increase of 9,231 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1886 and an increase of 1,318 bales as compared with 1885.

The old interior stocks have decreased during the week 17,855 bales and are 117,834 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts at the same towns have been 6,851 bales more than the same week last year, and since September 1 the receipts at all the towns are 8,386 bales more than for the same time in 1886-7.

The total receipts from the plantations since September 1, 1887, are 5,383,530 bales; in 1886-7 were 5,166,059 bales; in 1885-6 were 5,254,375 bales. Although the receipts at the outports the past week were 27,980 bales, the actual movement from plantations was only 9,491 bales, the balance being taken from the stocks at the interior towns. Last year the receipts from the plantations for the same week were 2,282 bales and for 1886 they were 19,486 bales. The increase in amount in sight, as compared with last year, is 398,200 bales, the increase as compared with 1885-6 is 397,634 bales and the increase over 1884-5 is 1,080,764 bales.

The Chronicle says that the speculation in cotton for future delivery at New York has been rather dull for the week under review and the fluctutations in prices were within narrow limits. The opening was depressed by a variety of influences. But on Monday there was considerable strength shown; there was in the first place more doing for export, which rumors raised to a large movement, the receipts at the ports were small, and the stocks began to show a rapid diminution. On Tuesday the bull movement received a severe set-back under the reports from Berlin of the relapse of Emperor Frederick of Germany, a marked decline at Liverpool, and the crop movement again free.

On Wednesday better advices from Berlin and a stronger Liverpool market, attended by news of the flood in the Mississippi river, caused a dearer opening, but the market relapsed into dullness, and Thursday declined a few points, under various influences, though selling for the decline was checked by a report of a rapid reduction of stocks at principal points. Friday a better report from Liverpool led to some demand to cover contracts, and sellers being scarce an advance of 6 to 8 points was easily made, part of which was lost later under the full crop movement.

The Chronicle's telegraphic reports from the south, indicate that planting continues to make good progress. Little or no rain has fallen, and the temperature has, as a rule, been favorable. In some sections of Texas moisture would be beneficial.

SINCE Mr. Frank Hurd's constituents have refused to return him to congress, he has had plenty of time to go around the country making free trade speeches. He ought to be a happy man.

Encouraging Immigration.

A most important meeting, for the purpose of promoting immigration to the southern states, is to be held at Hot Springs, North Carolina, this week, beginning tomorrow, and the proceedings of this convention may accomplish more practical results toward inducing immigration to the south than anything which has yet been done.

Among the promoters of the meeting are Presidents Scott, of the Richmond and Danville, John Inman, of the Richmond Terminal, Norton, of the Louisville and Nashville, Thomas, of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, Alexander, of the Central, Plant, of the Savannah, Florida and Western, and a number of other leading officials of the most important southern railroads. The governors of several of the southern states will be present, with prominent citizens from all parts of the south, Governor Gordon leaving Atlanta this afternoon to attend the meeting. Among other distinguished personages to be present is Cardinal Gibbons, who is in hearty sympathy with the movement to bring about immigration to the southern states. All of the prominent southern railroads will be represented at the meeting, and it is not at all improbable that the result of this conference will mark a new era in southern immigration.

It is very fortunate for the south that the railroads are beginning to turn their attention to the matter of encouraging immigration this way. Without their co-operation no substantial results could ever have been accomplished, but with their assistance there is no limit to the possibilities of such a movement. Heretofore our people have at various times turned their attention to this work, but there has never been that harmony of action between the people and the railroads which was necessary to accomplish anything substantial in the way of turning the tide of emigration to this section. Concert of action among the railroads has done more to build up the west than any other cause, and the lack of it has done more to retard the progress of the south in this particular than anything else.

The south offers greater advantages to those looking for new homes than any other section of this broad country. Nature is our advertising agent, and has heralded the inducements which the south offers throughout the world. The superiority of these advantages is not questioned, but the want of facilities has always put this at a disadvantage with every other section of the country.

We believe that with such men leading the movement for southern emigration, as will attend the meeting to be held at Hot Springs, that glorious results can be accomplished, and the fruit of the work of this assemblage will be looked for with the deepest interest by the whole south.

THE fact that Sam Jones has declared himself "a Christian mugwump" appears to have astonished a good many people. There is a great desire in New York, where the mugwumps are supposed to be engaged in business, to know what "a Christian mugwump" is.

The Dakota Question.

By a strict party vote the bill admitting South Dakota into the union as a state passed the senate; but it has two more gauntlets to run before the territory can be divided and the southern half admitted into the union.

It is not probable that either the house or the president, both of which authorities will have to act on the measure before the new state can be created, will look upon the matter in the same favorable light as did the republican senate; and it may be said that the chances of the admission of south Dakota are at present exceedingly slim.

Those who championed the measure in the senate urged that the people of Dakota, by a great majority, demand that the territory be divided, and the more populous half be admitted into the union. The democrats opposed it for several reasons, chief among which was that they objected to the division of the territory. It is more than probable that the democratic majority of the house will take a similar stand, and that if the republicans insist on the passage of the measure dividing the territory, that the bill will meet certain defeat; and it is right that it should, for it is bad policy to make any changes in the political divisions of any of the states or territories. If this is once started there is no guarantee that partisan motives will not at some time use the precedent in furtherance of unwise and dangerous legislation. Since democratic Texas was admitted into the union as a single state there is no reason why republican Dakota should be divided.

Senator Vest announced in the senate that he would vote for the bill if it provided for the admission of the territory into the union as one state, but the republicans would not agree to this. When the question comes up for discussion in the house the republicans will probably be met with the same proposition, and if they agree there is no reason why the bill should not be passed; but if they insist on the division of the territory the democrats should and will defeat the bill.

The political divisions of the union into states and territories, as they now are, should never be changed. When the territories become sufficiently populous for admission into the union this privilege should be granted whenever it is shown that they are entitled to it; but the policy sought to be established by the republicans of dividing the territories for party purposes is a bad one and should meet the prompt disapproval of the nation's law-makers.

THE BLOODY SHIRT Boston Advertiser, in commenting on the statement of the New York World, that there was a suspiciously large democratic vote in some of the northern parishes of Louisiana, says: "It was not many months ago when Senator Hoar was abused from one end to the other of the new south for words no more offensive, and when even the chosen vessel of Georgia liberalism, THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, had no milder term for him than 'meddling old wreck.'" We have nothing to retract of what we have said of Senator Hoar. We are glad to observe, however, that he has discontinued for so long a time his abusive course toward the south. When he begins again we will do likewise. We do not care, at present, to get into a discussion with any republican organ about the result of the Louisiana election. When they have recovered from the shock, it will give us pleasure to show why that state has eclipsed its record in repudiating republicanism. But, in the meantime, the Advertiser and others of its ilk, are not in a condition to discuss this question.

THE TELEGRAPHIC ACCOUNTS of the earthquakes in China are necessarily brief, but they present a picture of frightful desolation. WE COPIED INTO THESE columns recently, from some Virginia paper, a statement to the effect that the editors of the Century Magazine had refused to print Page's story of "Meh Lady" until he had altered the plot to suit the supposed demands of northern opinions. We are not surprised to learn from the editors of the Century that there is no foundation for this statement. The Century printed "Marse Chan," and that story is thoroughly and intensely southern in every part. At the same time, Mr. Page is too great an artist to infuse a spirit of sectionalism into his contributions to American literature.

A QUEER CASE.

A Genuine Coon Case in Judge Landrum's Court Yesterday.

A possessory warrant was sworn out by Margaret Lewis, colored, against Mr. W. C. Daniels Saturday in Judge Landrum's court.

The warrant was in court again yesterday, and upon the back was this bailiff's entry:

"Arrested defendant and have the coon in court, this April 23d, 1888."

Examination of the warrant explained things. The warrant is for "one pet coon, dark gray, blind in one eye, named Zip, valued at $10."

The coon was in court yesterday, and its owner, the woman, was offered all the way from twenty-five cents to five dollars for him, but refused all offers. The coon had been stolen and sold to Mr. Daniels. There was no doubt as to the identity of the animal, so Mr. Daniels paid the cost and the case was dismissed.

Drowned on Sunday.

Sunday afternoon a fifteen year old boy named Alex Savage, employed as a cart driver by the Chattahoochee brick company, was drowned near his home in Peyton, Ga., on the Georgia Pacific road. The boy, who could not swim, was bathing in a pond left by the overflow of the Chattahoochee river. After enjoying himself near the edge for awhile, the young darky ventured beyond his depth, and was drowned before assistance could reach him. The body was recovered by a neighbor, and the body carried to the home of his parents.

GOSSIP OF THE RAIL.

Meeting of the Railroad Commission Today.

Other Points of Interest Picked Up in Railroad Circles by Constitution Reporters—Personals.

The railroad commission will hold its regular monthly session today, and besides a large amount of routine business, the following matters will be taken into consideration. First, the case of the Travelers Protective association vs. the Pullman Palace Car company, will, by request of the attorneys, be argued again. The commissioners have given this case very serious and careful consideration as they deem the question involved of great importance. It is quite likely that after argument today, it will not be long before they will render a decision in the case.

Second, pursuant to notice given some time back, the Georgia Pacific and Atlanta and West Point railroad companies will appear by representations before the commission upon the question of the proposed revision of their freight tariff.

The Central and Atlanta and West Point's city freight and passenger offices have been moved from No. 9 Kimball to No. 11, which was formerly occupied by Scott & Co., real estate agents. This change was made for want of room by these railroad companies, and they now have the neatest and most commodious office in the Kimball house block.

Mr. Andy A. Gallagher, southern passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railway, headquarters at Chattanooga, left last evening, and the boys think that he has gone on a still hunt for some California travel.

Mr. W. H. Morrison, general agent of the Cotton Belt route, is in town.

No. 50 (passenger) of the Richmond and Danville now reaches Atlanta at eleven o'clock instead of twelve as heretofore. The change of schedule went into effect last Sunday.

The Sabbath school of the First Methodist church will go by the Georgia Pacific on a picnic excursion to Salt Spring next Saturday.

The conductors of the Atlanta order will excurt to Rome via the East Tennessee road next Saturday. The Atlanta Rifles band will go.

MACON TO MADISON.

The First Through Trip on the New Road Yesterday.

MACON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A party of thirty of the happiest men that ever left this city went to Madison over the Covington road and Macon road this morning. The train pulled out of the Covington and Macon depot at seven o'clock this evening, and was soon flying northward at the rate of thirty miles per hour. The party consisted of twenty-five representative men of the city. The party was headed and looked after by Colonel B. W. Frobell, general manager, and A. J. McEvoy, superintendent of the road. The attorney for the Covington and Macon and the Macan and Dublin, and the officials of both roads were in the party. Much regret was expressed at the absence of Colonel Machen, who was called to New York Saturday night on pressing business.

Lengthy stops were made at the stations, and the excursionists were afforded excellent opportunity to see all the towns along the line. At Monticello several gentlemen were added to the party, and when the train pulled into Madison, at 11:15, the cars were well crowded. The entrance was made into the city on the Georgia road, and at the depot there were fifteen hundred people, who received the coming of the party with cheers.

Colonel Frobel was presented with wreaths of flowers by a committee of ladies, who also placed it on front of the engine. Carriages were in waiting, and the party were driven over the city in gay style. After the drive the town crier called the people to the courthouse. A large crowd of Madison people and the Macon excursionists assembled.

Ex-United States Senator Joshua Hill was called to the chair, and in a few happy remarks welcomed the visitors. He said that the occasion tingled many of the tender chords of memory, and brought to his mind his former association with Colonel Tom Hardeman, of Macon.

Then the crowd called on Colonel Hardeman. He responded. He alluded to the Covington and Macon as a triumph of southern enterprise and an evidence that there is life in the old land yet. After Colonel Hardeman's speech Colonel Joel Albert Billups was call on. In the most graceful manner he welcomed the guests of Madison, and said that the crowd wished to hear from their representative men, and Mayor Price, of Macon, was then called by the crowd.

In response, he said Colonel Hardeman had expressed part of his sentiments, and F. H. Richardson, editor of the Macon Telegraph, would express the rest.

Mr. Richardson, in response to calls, made a speech on the prospects of the road which was loudly applauded. He predicted that the rolling wheels of commercial prosperity would convert its track into bars of silver for the coffers of Georgia, while they would ever be bands of steel to bind closer together the hearts of Macon and Madison.

Colonel N. E. Harris was then called on. He responded with an eloquent tribute to the patience and faith of Colonel E. C. Machen, Mrs. H. S. Gould and Mr. M. J. Roberts, who had lifted this grand enterprise out of the slough of despond. Colonel Hardeman had already paid a deserved tribute to the most faithful friend of the road—Colonel Frobel. He was, perhaps, the oldest friend of the enterprise on the excursion, and every one looked up to him as the father of this new and promising enterprise.

After Mr. Harris's speech the meeting adjourned, and the Macon party took a walk over the business part of the town and then repaired to the train, where an elegant dinner was served by J. J. Crawford, of the Hotel Lanier. The train didn't leave Madison until 3 o'clock, arrived in Macon at 8 o'clock.

This was the first regular train that has made the trip, and people are greatly pleased with the road and its prospects. They intend to run an excursion to Madison next week with trains that will carry several thousand people.

At Work on the Dummy Line.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—This morning a force of 100 hands commenced work on the Broad street dummy line. The branch leaves front street at Deignan's store, corner of Tenth street, passes Jones Bros. & Caverley's and Irvin's into Broad to the Rankin house. It will run up to Fifteenth street, thence out through the park. If the force keeps on at the present rate of progress, the line will be completed by the close of the week.

THE TOTAL RECEIPTS

Of the Gilmore Jubilee—What the Industrial Home Will Receive.

The receipts from the Gilmore concerts are as follows:

The first night's concert	$1,271 50
The second night	1,751 55
Friday matinee	1,106 00
Saturday matinee	1,034 00
Saturday night	743 00
Total	$5,906 05

Of this amount thirty per cent was turned over to Mr. Grady for the Girls' Industrial home, he to bear all the local expenses. The receipts from this thirty per cent are $1,771.81. The receipts for the Sunday concert were $953.20 of which Gilmore's band received $500. The surplus $453.20 was paid to Mr. Grady for the industrial home.

The total receipts for the industrial home were $2,225.00. To this must be added the sale of refreshments $60, and the privilege of Japanese fans $2.50, making a total of $2,287.50. Out of this the local expenses are to come. These were unexpectedly large, owing to the great distance of the hall from the city and the heavy charges made for everything. The bill for electric lights for two nights was $311. The bill for chairs 1,500 being purchased, was $426. Mr. Jester's bill for building the stage and clearing the hall was $381. Mr. Salter's bill for directing the chorus was $115, and so on through the list. There will be something left for the Industrial home, however, perhaps about $500. As soon as the bills are all in and paid, a check will be sent to the president of he home for whatever surplus there is.

Gilmore in Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Augusta is full of visitors tonight from neighboring towns on all the railroads, who came to attend the Gilmore festival. The concerts were given at 2:30 and 8 p. m., and were both attended by large audiences. Tonight the crowd was over 3,000. At the conclusion of the concert an elaborate pyrotechnical display was given the audience by Manager Cohen, who had arranged it as an additional attraction.

Epperson Released.

William Epperson, the young man arrested Thursday evening upon a charge of having cut William Rex, the felony for which Drew Jett had a day or two before been sentenced to four years at hard labor was released yesterday. As will be remembered, Jett himself swore out the warrant before Judge Manning charging Epperson with assault with intent to murder. The case was heard yesterday morning and the warrant was dismissed. It is understood that Judge Clarke will be urged to reduce the sentence, making it a misdemeanor instead of a felony, and to impose a fine instead of a sentence to the gang.

WALKS AND TALKS.

The Rev. Wilber L. Davidson, one of the foremost lecturers and Shakspearean scholars of the day, will be in Atlanta next Friday. He is fresh from his triumphs in Chicago and other large cities of the west. Next Friday night he will deliver one of his celebrated lectures in the basement of Trinity church. He will speak of "The Home of Shakspeare and Tramps through Switzerland." His lecture will be beautifully illustrated. He has a powerful and costly stereopticon, and can picture vividly the scenes he describes. The pictorial lessons he gives are garnished by a plentiful supply of fancy and fact, told in terse and elegant style. His instrument is the best ever made, and his collection of views unmatched anywhere. He produced a great sensation in Chicago, and the newspapers referred in glowing language to his scholarly and picturesque lecture. His lectures are at once educative and diverting; they please while they instruct. Dr. J. W. Lee heard this lecture and he speaks of it as the finest entertainment he ever attended. Said he: "I shall never forget that lecture and the superb way in which it was illustrated by stereopticon views. It was a revelation in art. Dr. Davidson is a man of great ability and he describes his views vividly." The lecture next Friday night will be a great event. It will be illustrated by nearly fifty views of the home and haunts of Shakspeare. Since the Trinity course was begun several very fine lectures have been given. It is safe to say, however, that Dr. Davidson's lecture will eclipse them all. The tickets will be sold so low that everybody can procure one. Adults will be charged 35 cents and children 15 cents. That the lecture room will be filled, goes without the saying.

***

The course of lectures delivered in Trinity church during the past winter have been varied in character and highly successful in results. Among the speakers were Dr. John H. Vincent, Dr. A. H. Gillett, Professor A. S. Ford, Colonel Russell H. Conwell, Mr. Peter M. von Finkelstein, Charles Dickens, and Dr. Edward Everett Hale.

MIKE NORRIS,
The eminent young tragedian and commedian.

That is his business card and tells the whole story. Another aspirant for fame in that field now so ably filled by James Owen O'Connor and our own Scott Thornton!

Norris is a young man from Greenville, Georgia, who has cast aside a lucrative law practice and, laboring under the delusion that he is an actor, has began the search for fame—and famine—before the footlights.

Norris came to Atlanta yesterday to see his confrere Scott Thornton and, after the rehearsal of "Othello" last night was induced to give a recitation. Arrayed in a costume that was a cross between a Nanki Poo garb and one of the new uniforms of the Atlanta baseball club, he gave selections from "Richard the Third" and "Romeo and Juliet." He has a good voice and some ideas of how to use it, but unfortunately he always puts these ideas in at the wrong place. In his gestures he was in strict keeping with his costume—especially the baseball portion of it.

He had a highly appreciative audience, but Scott gave him the "dizzy ha ha!" The poor boy's fate is now sealed.

The news of the death of President William B. Dinsmore, of the Adams Express company, was heard with deep regret by many prominent business men in Atlanta who knew the veteran expressman well. On Saturday morning Mr. John Lovette, the efficient agent of the Southern Express company here, had the office elaborately draped in black and white in respect to Mr. Dinsmore's memory, and on yesterday between ten and eleven o'clock—the hour at which Mr. Dinsmore's funeral took place in New York—the Southern Express company's office in Atlanta was closed in honor of the solemn occasion. The black and white mourning card on the office door was appropriate.

Dunlop's Stage News recalls the fact that when Miss Lillian Olcott went to New York a few month ago to defend the suit brought against her concerning the right to "Theodora," the counsel in the case were Roscoe Conkling and Samuel G. Barnard. Within two weeks Miss Olcott, both of the distinguished attorneys and Mr. Johnson, who was an important witness in the case, have died. "Good-natured" Sam Barnard, as he was familiarly known, died six hours before his distinguished associate, he having been stricken down while trying a case.

Patrolman John Abbott is responsible for the story:

At the home of Mr. P. Pelligrini, on Chapel street, there were four young cats and four young dogs, the cats being six days older than the dogs. Two of the young cats died, and two of the young dogs, and a few days afterward the mother dog died. The mother cat has adopted the two puppies and treats them exactly as if they were her own young. The greatest trouble she experiences is in moving them from place to place. She takes her kittens by the loose skin on the back of the neck, but the puppies can't stand it. That doesn't interfere with the general peace though. The puppies do their own travelling, but there is no other distinction made, and it isn't the fault of the old cat that even this difference exists.

THREE DROWNINGS.

Jesse Jackson and George Platte Drowned in Appling's Mill Pond.

News was received in the city yesterday of the death, by drowning, last Saturday, of Jesse Jackson and George Platte.

The boys, both fourteen years of age, in company with Louis Platte, the brother of George, left their homes in Mountain View, or Rough and Ready, on the Central road, for a fishing excursion to the pond. After reaching the pond they all got into an old leaky boat, and,—despite the warning of Mrs. Appling, paddled out a short distance from the bank. In order to frighten Louis, the youngest of the three, the other two boys began rocking the boat. Jesse lost his balance and fell in the water. The other two were badly frightened, and as Jesse came up, George Platte reached to help him, but leaned too far and the boat turned over.

Mrs. Appling began screaming, and the first to reach the spot was little Jimmie Woodall, who was returning from Atlanta. The little fellow with remarkable presence of mind threw the dead limb of a tree to Louis, who grasped it tightly and was pulled ashore. All efforts to save the other two were fruitless, and they sank before help could reach them.

Dr. Griffin soon arrived and turned his attention to young Louis Platte, who had fainted as he reached the bank. In a little while a number of the neighbors had gathered on the bank. Following the directions of Mrs. Appling and young Woodall, Mr. Bob Appling waded for the bodies. Presently his foot touched one of the bodies and he stopped. It proved to be that of Jesse Jackson. The water where young Platte had sunk was too deep for wading, and Mr. Appling dived for and finally recovered it. The bodies were laid side by side on the bank, and the tears and sobs of young Lewis upon recovering consciousness and finding the dead bodies of his brother and friend beside him were piteous. M. J. F. Fuss came to Atlanta next day and purchased two coffins exactly alike, and in these the bodies were buried, Jesse Jackson at Mount Zion church, and George Platte in Oglethorpe county yesterday. Jesse Jackson is a son of Mr. J. B. Jackson, the night watchman at the Central road round house. George Platte was the son of Mr. R. H. Platte, and grandson of Judge Platte, of Lexington.

PHI DELTA THETA.

An Enthusiastic Meeting of the Fraternity Alumni Last Night.

In response to the call for a meeting of the Phi Delta Theta alumni for the purpose of organizing an alumni chapter, between forty and fifty enthusiastic members of that fraternity met last evening at eight o'clock in the office of Mr. Morris Brandon in the Fitten building.

Mr. E. C. Mobley was elected president of the meeting, and Mr. W. A. Speer secretary. A general discussion as to the advisability of the proposed alumni chapter showed a unanimity and warmth of feeling that made the chapter a certainty. A committee, consisting of Dr. W. S. Elkin, Mr. W. A. Speer and Mr. Morris Brandon, was appointed to secure a suitable hall. Another committee, consisting of Messrs. E. C. Mobley, David Smith and E. C. Spalding was appointed to perfect a programme. A charter has already been obtained for the chapter, and there were present last evening representatives from Athens, Emory, Mercer, Vanderbilt, and the Southern Kentucky university, in Danville, Ky. The next meeting will be called Wednesday, May 9th, and will be held in the new hall.

Excellent Horses Entered—Special Attractions—Arrangements at the Grounds—The Entries for Today's Races.

Racing today!

Piedmont park will present a lively scene this afternoon when the first spring meeting of the Gentlemen's Driving club is inaugurated.

Everything indicates a splendid day of racing. There are three events as follows:

First race—All ages. Purse $150; 100 to first, $50 to second. Six furlongs.

Second race—All ages. Purse $200; $175 to first, $50 to second, $ 5 to third. Mile heats.

Third race—All ages. Purse $200; $125 to first, $50 to second, $25 to third. One mile dash.

THE ENTRIES.

The entries for today's races include a number of horses that are well known, many of them being famous. They are all good ones, and there is no doubt but there will be as good racing as was ever seen in the south.

For the three-quarter mile dash the starters will be: Lucy Harper (115), Jim Jordan (117), Lomax (117), Little Trumpet (117), and Weeks (114). These are all good ones, and it is going to keep the knowing ones guessing to pick the winner.

For the second race, mile heats, there are entered Prichett (109), Bertha C. (107), and Hiram Wood (109). This will be one of the prettiest races of the meeting.

For the third race, a mile dash, the entries are: Walker (118), Frankie B. (118), Vallet (118), Fairmount (118) and Red Leaf (114). With five starters, all of them fast horses and experienced racers, this mile dash will be a beauty.

MISS BURKE'S RIDING.

A specially interesting feature of each day's programme will be the chariot and other races given by Miss Nellie Burke and her assistants. Miss Burke's horses have arrived and are in excellent condition.

This feature is one that will interest everybody. The races are always exciting, and the ladies enjoy them especially.

ARRANGEMENTS AT THE GROUNDS.

The center of the grand stand, opposite the judge's stand, has been fenced off. The seats here will be reserved at 25 cents extra. The general admission to the grounds is 50 cents, children under twelve years of age half price. Two horse vehicles will be charged 50 cents, one horse vehicles 25 cents. Admission to the quarter stretch will be 25 cents extra.

Members' conveyances are admitted free and members and their families are admitted to the reserved seats free.

The end balconies are reserved for colored people at no extra charge.

Tickets are on sale at Beermann & Silverman's, corner of Peachtree and Decatur streets; at the Richmond and Danville railroad office under the Kimball; and at the car shed.

TRANSPORTATION TO THE GROUNDS.

The Richmond and Danville railroad will run excursion trains to the grounds, begining at 1 o'clock. Street cars will run every five minutes.

The racing will begin promptly at 3 o'clock.

THE RACES AND MEMORIAL DAY.

An interesting discussion arose in the board of the Driving club over races on Memorial Day. When the programme was first made up four days were selected between the Nashville and Memphis meeting, and none of the committee remembered that these four days included the 26th, which is Memorial Day. When this fact was discovered there was a general desire on the part of the board to avoid having races on a day sacred to all southerners, but the programmes had been printed, and unless the races had been run, the owners of horses entered for that day could have claimed the purses. The president and his associates took the matter vigorously in hand and arranged all difficulties so that the races will be postponed on the 26th for memorial exercises. We feel sure that the public will appreciate this action and will make its appreciation felt on the day following.

OTHER ARRANGEMENTS.

The judges will be Captain J. T. Adam, of Gallatin, Tennessee; Mr. T. J. Pollard and Mr. T. J. Brady, of Atlanta.

An excellent band will be in attendance during the entire meeting.

Pools will be sold by the well known pool-seller, Mr. G. H. Kneeland. The refreshment privilege has been let to Chas. Beermann & Co.

Everybody should go out today and give the meeting an auspicious start.

Nine men have been signed. They are: Key, c; Harper and Turner, p, Lawshe, ss; Craig, 1b; Baker, 2b; Whitaker, Matthews and Ferris in the field. These are all good men, and all have shown up well in the preliminary practice.

The club's uniforms have been shipped from Philadelphia, and are on their way here.

It is probable that the opening game will be played on Thursday.

A Rousing Meeting.

There was a rousing meeting of temperance people at Decatur Sunday night, at which enthusiastic speeches were made by Rev. A. G. Haygood, Rev. H. K. Walker and others. The sentiment of the meeting was very pronounced against the third party movement in Georgia.

A Voice.

For the Times-Democrat.

A hidden choir of dear southern birds
 Have made their home in her fair throat,
Voicing the tender passion of unspoken words
 In many a sweet, heart-stirring note.
Sometimes the arch and tricksy mocking-bird
 Laughs in her happy, jocund tone;
Again, the yearning of the dove is heard,
 As when she mourns her mate alone;
And now the red-bird with his vibrant trill
 Showers a rain of music on the air,
Or the swamp robin make the pulses thrill
 Like some soul-burdened choral prayer.
Our spirit's song, blest by her voice, will be
 Attuned to heaven's fullest harmony!

THE STOLEN GOODS.

A Wholesale Thieving That Has Been Going On.

The People That Steal and the People That Buy Stolen Goods—A Crooked Organization—How it Works.

"Thousands and thousands of dollars have been stolen by this same gang. It's the biggest gang that ever worked in Atlanta."

The speaker was Mr. L. Reneau, freight agent of the Georgia Pacific.

"Yes, sir," he continued, "they do things on the wholesale plan. Ten thousand pounds of meat have been taken at once. Whole carloads of oats have been scooped in one night. Sugar is stolen by the barrel."

"What then?"

"Just this. Only organized gangs can work on such a scale as that."

"That's right," said Detective Buchanan, "and it has been organized for a long time. People don't steal a car load at a time unless they know before hand exactly where to go with it."

"Who's fault is it?"

"That depends. Besides this regular gang there is a great deal of petty thieving. Now, the people who buy the goods are the ones to blame for the regular systematic thefts. The only way to stop it is to catch some of them. You may arrest nine out of ten car-breakers, but just as long as there is a safe market for stolen goods the tenth man will continue to steal. The trouble is that people that buy these goods are hard to catch, and harder still to convict in court."

An examination of the state docket will show that during the past week about fifteen have been arrested by Buchanan, Bedford and Cason upon a charge of car-breaking.

"Now, which of those are in the gang?"

"Let's see," said Detective Ed Cason. "The first one arrested was Frank Hall. Then two brothers-in-law, Joe and Sam Dorsey. Then William Branch and Lenten Williams. Last of all is Ben Akers. There may be more on the docket, and certainly others that haven't been caught."

"How do they work?"

"Take an actual case. About the first of April there was stolen 520 bushels of oats, 11 barrels of sugar, and a lot of corn and peas. Finally we found out that Frank Hall had drayed the goods. Not a word could you get out of him until Ben Akers was arrested.

"'Now, who told you to haul those oats?'

"'Ben Akers. I didn't know they were stolen. I hauled them for him, and he paid me fifty cents.'

"'Where did you haul from?'

"'A car with one end on the ground.'

"'Where did you haul them?'

"'To Mr. Appling, at the corner of Ella and Leonard streets.'

"Ben Akers is one of the sharpest negroes in Atlanta, and you can't get anything out of him. We went to Mr. H. P. Appling's, out in the old barracks. He readily answered all questions, and the negro's story was right.

"'I bought the goods,' said Mr. Appling, 'from a white man.'

"'Who was he?'

"'I don't know. I never saw him before.'

"'Didn't he send any bills, or give any receipts?'

"'No, sir. I never handle bills, for I have no education. He just came and asked me if I wanted some oats; I told him 'yes.' He sent them out and I paid him when he came that same evening. He asked me if I wanted more. I told him 'yes.' They were sent out, he came and I paid him. I haven't seen him since, and don't know anything about him.'

"Now, that sort of carelessness is dangerous. I think that some merchants actually know the goods to be stolen when they receive them. The negroes say nothing about any white man, and my honest opinion is that all dealings are made directly with Ben Akers. This idea of a white man, or white men, at the head of the gang, don't sound right. It complicates matters a good deal too, and knocks a link out of the evidence."

"How many buy stolen goods?"

"Quite a number, and unless we are mistaken it isn't confined altogether to these little one-horse dealers. Another thing is that the railroads themselves are to blame for a great deal of it. Look at the Georgia Pacific, for example, with its cars on a track three-quarters of a mile long. And, let me tell you, the same people buy all the goods. It's a regular thing. They are afraid to tackle new men. They go to men they know."

"Now sum it all up."

"It's an organized gang. It has been organized for some time. There are certain dealers that buy the goods. The thieving is done on a big scale, and why? Because there is a market for all they can steal. That's all there is in it."

"What about the prices they get?"

"Well, Branch told Williams to try and get ten cents a bushel for a carload of salt. The other prices are in proportion."

POLICE POINTERS.

Tom Lewis, colored, is booked April 23rd, with using profane language and resisting an officer. He went out to the stockade for twelve days, and soon after he left a darkey came to headquarters and said that there was a hammock on Tom's front porch. The hammock was brought in yesterday afternoon and identified by the owner. Lewis is booked now with a state case for larceny.

Supernumerary West is earning a reputation as the most cautious man on the force. A little darky approached him yesterday evening and said: "Boss, some niggers and white folks is fighten' down there on Hunter street." The patrolman rushed into a convenient drug store and telephoned excitedly: "Send some help up here to the corner of Whitehall and Hunter."

Captain Manly and Joe Green and two or three patrolmen rushed up, and were surprised to see the supernumery standing on the corner with his arms folded. As they came up the patrolman drew his club and started down Hunter street.

"What's the matter, West?" asked Captain Manly.

"That's what I'm going to find out now," answered the super.

The "colonel's" reputation as a truthful man is so well established at police headquarters that it would pass without comment nowadays but for the fact that Patrolman Lackey is earning a reputation in that line himself. There was a sort of pitched battle last night that resulted in a draw. Articles have been signed for another encounter Thursday night, and the matter is arousing quite an interest in police circles.

"Please go tell my father to come and get me out," said a young man at police headquarters Sunday.

The friend finally agreed to go, and securing a hack drove about five miles and a half towards Marietta. As the old gentleman opened the door the friend stated his mission.

"Is he arrested?" asked the old gentleman.

"Yes, sir, and locked up."

"Thank God," said the old man reverently, "I hope they will keep him there awhile."

Mrs. Copes, living about three miles from Atlanta, near Cooper's pond, made her way up Marietta street last night. She telephoned to headquarters, but left before Joe Green could get there. Meeting two patrolmen she was advised to have Judge Horton issue a warrant, and went off towards his home. She stated to the patrolmen that her husband had beaten her, and bruises about her face and head confirmed the statement.

Mr. M. G. Stalham, of Dawson, arrived last evening on the 10:30 train and made his way to police headquarters.

"I've come for my son," he said.

The young man was turned out, the three knives, corkscrew and money turned over to the father, and the two went out together. They leave this morning for Dawson.

A horse belonging to Mr. G. S. Prior became frightened and started down South Pryor street on a run yesterday afternoon, but was stopped before doing any serious damage.

There is a new telegraph instrument and alarm at police headquarters. It was found in a yard on North Pryor street, but the gentleman in whose yard it was found knew nothing about it, and the instrument is waiting for an owner.

THE COLORED THEOLOGIANS.

Interesting Exercises at the Gammon School of Theology.

The work of the preachers' assembly at the Gammon school of theology still progresses with deep interest in the daily instruction provided by the faculty and special lecturers.

The delegates and regular students sit with note books in hand and take full notes on the lectures. Printed outlines and brief pamphlets are also provided by the faculty.

After a conference at 9 a. m. yesterday on the experience of perfect love, Professor Murray gave an interesting and very instructive lecture on "how the Bible was made."

Dr. Parke continued his lectures, speaking on "The Result of the Atonement."

The "Hour of Sacred Song, Illustrated by Selections," by the Rev. N. Keff Smith, then followed. His singing made a profound impression for good and deeply moved the large audience.

The afternoon lecture was given by the Rev. Wilbur L. Davidson, who spoke for an hour on "Ingersollism." The lecture was a clear and forcible presentation of the sophistries of unbelief. He is certainly one one of the greatest lecturers in the United States. He has been engaged by the Rev. Dr. Lee to deliver one of his grand pictorial lectures in Trinity church next Friday. He has chosen as his theme, "The Home and Haunts of Shakspeare and a Tramp Through Switzerland." In his lecture he was happy and told many truths. He thought the scepticism of today was overestimated. It was not growing as rapidly as many people fancied. It has had no leader since Paine died. The new leader inspires with boldness his followers. All are at work. There is no reserve force. Ingersollism comes to tear down a system of religion already existing, without giving us anything in its place. It takes from the Christian all consolation in bereavement, and gives him nothing in return. When standing by a bed of death get one of Ingersoll's lectures and read it; the darkness grows blacker than ever. Ingersoll on the lecture platform, and Ingersollism at his brother's grave, are two vastly different men. As he stands in the presence of death, especially in the presence of the death of his own loved ones, he finds his philosophy baseless and unsatisfying. There is nothing new in the philosophy of Ingersollism. He is advancing the effete and shattered theories of a century ago—shooting the arrows whittled by Paine when he wrote his "Age of Reason." He is in this work of iconoclasm not because he believes what he says, but because of the almighty dollar. This is the barest outline of what was a forcible and eloquent lecture.

At 7:30, the Rev. Dr. A. H. Gillet gave an illustrated tour through New Orleans and the bayou region of Louisiana, which was followed by his able and entertaining lecture on "The Testimony of the Spade to the Historical Accuracy of the Bible."

The programme for today is as follows:

9 to 9:30.—Devotional Service, Missionary Prayer Meeting.

9:30 to 10:30.—Lecture by the Rev. C. O. Fisher, D.D. "The South as a Missionary Field for the Preacher."

10:30 to 11:30.—A lecture by the Rev Dr. E. H. Barnett, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Atlanta: "The Necessity of the Holy Spirit in Ministerial Work."

11:30 to 12.—Elocution. Reading the Bible.

12 to 1 p. m.—Doctrinal theology. Repentance and faith.

3 to 4:30.—Lecture by the Rev. Dr. T. C. Carter, editor Methodist Advocate, Chattanooga: "Is the Church Losing its Power?"

7:30 to 8.—Music by a select chorus and the Clark University quartette, with the hymns: "Rock of Ages" and "Abide with Me," illustrated by dissolving views.

8.—Lecture by the Rev W. L. Davidson, A. M.: "From the Italian Lakes to Vesuvius." Illustrated by a series of stereopticon views.

THE ODD FELLOWS

Propose to Have a Hall of Their Own in Atlanta.

The sixty-ninth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship will be celebrated by the order in Atlanta. There will be a mass meeting at Odd Fellows hall, corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, at 8 o'clock next Thursday night. There will be interesting exercises, one of the special features being the inauguration of the scheme to build an Odd Fellows hall in Atlanta.

The hall when completed will be an ornament to the city and of great use to the order. The following circular has been published:"

This subject has been frequently referred to as a desirable and deserving enterprise, and is now of easy accomplishment if the membership generally feel sufficient interest, as the building and the site will be owned by the stockholders and controlled by them.

A subscription to stock is not a donation, but secures interest in the lot and building. This has been, and as we believe, will always be a safe investment in Atlanta. The shares of stock will be $20.00 each, payable $1.00 per month on each share. It is hoped that each member will come to the meeting prepared to subscribe for as many shares as their circumstances will admit.

Every member in the city at the time is urged to attend, unless prevented by sickness of himself or family. But if you cannot arrange to be in the city and at the meeting, please manifest your confidence and interest by signing the blank subscription below for as many shares as you will take, and return to the address of the secretary of this lodge.

At the mass meeting representatives of the different lodges will explain briefly and plainly the plan of the proposed enterprise.

The committee having charge of the preliminary work of the building of the hall are as follows:

Central lodge, No. 28—John R. Gramling, A. L. Kontz.

Barnes lodge, No. 55—J. T. Pendleton, B. F. McDuffie.

Capitol lodge, No. 60—J. B. Goodwin, H. M. Beutell.

Schiller lodge, No. 71—H. Franklin, A. Ditler.

Myrtle lodge—M. G. Parker, Morris Brandon.

Come to the meeting, if possible. If not, send your subscription, that success may be assured. Fraternally yours, J. F. KEMPTON, Secretary, No. 196 Jones Street, Atlanta, Ga.

(Form of Subscription.)

I hereby subscribe for.........Shares of $20.00 each, payable $1.00 monthly on each share, as stock for the purchase of a lot or site, and the erection thereon of an Odd Fellows' hall or building, in the city of Atlanta, and authorize you to present the same to the proper authorities at the proper time. ....

The proposed building is the theme of conversation among all the members of the order in Atlanta. The matter has been talked about for years, but never before has it taken definite shape. The men who have it in contemplation will never be satisfied until it is an assured fact. They are in earnest, and will begin pushing matters.

Entertainments That Will be Given This Week—Weddings and Other Events—Points About People.

There will be a general rehearsal tonight of the choruses which are to be sung in the Wagner festival. The rehearsal will begin at 8 o'clock, in the music room of the Atlanta Female institute. Mr. Sternberg requests all the chorus singers and the soloists to be prompt. This will be the most important rehearsal he has yet had, and he expects all of his one hundred picked singers to be present. He says his singers are already so well trained that they could render in good style all the pieces they will sing at the festival, which is yet a month off.

The concert in DeGive's opera house next Friday night by the "Cecilia Club" will attract a large crowd. This club is the only organization of the kind in the southern states and ranks with the best clubs of the kind in the United States. It contains as refined and capable singers as can be found anywhere. The personnel of the club is: First soprano, Mrs. Anna Simon-Werner; second soprano, Mrs. Mary Turner-Salter, first contrallo, Mrs. Ida Kendrick-Smith, and second contrallo, Mrs. Constantin Sternberg. These ladies will be assisted by Mr. Constantin Sternberg, Mr. Sumner Salter and Mr. Alex W. Smith. An excellent programme has been carefully prepared. It will contain several novelties. The ladies, assisted by Mr. Salter and Mr. Smith, will sing the famous "Lucie Sixtette." The quartette will give some gems by the best composers. Some of these have never been heard in Atlanta. Mr. Sternberg will play Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2, by Liszt. In New York he made a hit when he played this in one of his concerts, and the Herald, Times, Tribune and Sun all concurred in the opinion that it was his best performance. This was given by the full Gilmore band. In his rendering of it, Mr. Sternberg will demonstrate the superiority of a grand piano over a brass and reed band, when it comes to playing a piece written for the piano forte. He will play two of his latest compositions—"On the Lagoon" and "Tarantelle." The concert will be the best ever given by the "Cecilia Quartette," and the operahouse should be filled with those who love the pure and the good in music. An entertainment like this exerts a refining and softening influence, and should be liberally supported by the best people of the city.

Quite a romantic marriage occurred on Sunday. The contracting party must have believed in "the better the day the better the deed." They were Mrs. M. J. Gregory, of Warren county, and Mr. W. H. Gregory, of Atlanta. In the afternoon of that day the bride-elect arrived in the city via Central, where she was met and escorted to the carriage in waiting by the groom. They were driven to the residence of Rev. Mr. Underwood, on Fair street, he pronouncing the words that made them one. After the ceremony the happy couple were driven to their home, 105 E. Hunter street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fitten gave a dinner last evening, complimentary to Mrs. Morehead, of North Carolina, and Mrs. Burton, of Virginia. McClesky and Mr. Martin.

A new weekly newspaper has been started in Atlanta. It will be a more interesting fact to know that the "men in charge" are not over ten years of age. They are James Meador, Lamar Jones and Frank Bowman. In this paper, which is issued bi-monthly, the young men hold the positions of editor, manager and collector, reporter and typesetter. The name of this little paper is "The Dot," is published by the "Dot Publishing company," 201 South Pryor street, which is the residence of Mr. Jones, manager and collector. It is certainly a curiosity. It is printed on a sheet three by two inches; is replete with greeting, continued story, society news and advertisements. One of the last reads: For sale—A good double set of goat harness and stout wagon. Apply at office. The first number was issued on April 21st. The next issue will be May 5th.

The editors have spent many afternoons in this work, and are to be congratulated both upon the wording of the items and the neatness of the whole appearance. The boys attend school, and stand head of their classes, thereby showing that they have not lost any time for important editorial work, though it is a four-paged, well filled sheet.

Since the issue of "The Dot," numerous compliments have been received by the editors, and we all hope it will be successful in future. At present, there are twenty-five subscribers. The subscription is twenty-five cents a year. Surely, news was never ss cheap.

Mrs. P. J. Callaghan is dangerously sick at her home, No. 130½ Decatur street.

Miss Lula D. Somers has returned to Chattanooga.

Miss Mabel Hillyer, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. George Hillyer, returned to her home in Rome yesterday.

A QUEER PROCEEDING.

The Governor is Called on by an Unknown Lady.

An unknown lady called at the executive department yesterday and stated that she wished to see the governor on important business.

She was ushered into his office, and told a queer story.

She said that she was from Illinois; that some time ago she came down to Georgia and bought forty acres of land in Haralson county, with a view to running a fruit farm. She engaged several laborers to put this land in proper shape for the cultivation of fruit trees, and paid them for their services. She now claims that they did not do the work as it should have been done, and she wants her money refunded. She stated that she had tried to get warrants against these men whom she was pleased to denounce as thieves and rogues but had failed to do so. She now came to appeal to the governor, whom she knew to be a good and brave man, for justice. Governor Gordon told her that he had nothing to do with such cases, and she left the capitol in high dudgeon, saying that there was no justice in Georgia, or words to that effect.

THROUGH THE CITY.

The Rifles each day are becoming more enthusiastic over the Nashville drill. The following notice clipped from the Nashville American no doubt had something to do in arousing their enthusiasm: "Miss Annie Porterfield has completed the selection of her maids of honor as sponsor for the Atlanta Rifles in the coming interstate drill. They are Misses Willie Hume, Kate Thompson, Mamie Duncan, Eva Curry, Jane Washington, Queenie Woods and Lou O'Brien." Miss Porterfield is the accomplished daughter of Mr. Frank Porterfield, cashier of the Commercial National bank of Nashville, and one of Nashville's most popular society young ladies. The interest the Rifles' sponsor has taken in the company is certainly appreciated by them.

The called meeting of police commissioners to have been held last night for the consideration of charges against Policemon Baldwin, was postponed until Monday. The charge against Baldwin is conduct unbecoming an officer, using boisterous and provoking language, and in flourishing and firing his pistol and in being intoxicated while assisting in the arrest of James McDonald, near Salt Springs.

The remains of little Annie Frank Small, the three year old child of Mr. Sam Small, arrived in the city Saturday and on yesterday at noon were placed in the vault of M. G. Dobbins at Oakland cemetery. They will be removed to Mr. Small's vault when it is completed.

DIAMONDS.

Watches and Diamonds Found in Tea and Coffee A Novel Way of Introducing Goods.

The names of all persons finding diamonds, watches, etc., are added to this list daily. The Overland Tea company, of San Francisco, have refitted the store, No. 10 North Pryor street, directly opposite the Kimball House, and, in order to introduce their goods, this company put for 60 days souvenirs in every can of tea and coffee sold, such as solid gold, silver and nickel watches, also, genuine diamonds in solid gold setting; also, money and many other articles of less value. Every can contains a souvenir. The coffee, can and contents weigh about three pounds; the tea, can and contents about one and a half pounds. This expensive and novel way of advertising will be discontinued after 60 days, and these really choice goods will be sold strictly on their merits, but without the souvenir. Of course, every purchaser must not expect to get a diamond or watch. This company claim that they have just as good a right to give away watches, diamonds or other jewelry and money as their competitors have to give away glassware, chromos, etc. Get up a club. Those who get up a club order most always get a handsome present. Orders by mail promptly forwarded to all parts of the United States on receipt of cash or post-office order. New Orleans Cotton Market.

NEW ORLEANS, April 23.—[Special.]—A good business was done in Liverpool in spots, 14,000 bales being sold, though at the same price as Saturday. Deliveries showed an improvement of 1@2 6-4d and caused markets on this side to open several points better, but the very heavy port receipts about 4,000 against 1,100 last year, overcame the advance, and at closing, both New York and our markets are only 1@2 higher than Saturday. A brisk demand for spots was evident on Saturday, and 2,500 bales were sold after hours. The inquiry continued today at higher prices—1 1-6 cents on lower grades and ⅛ cent on good middling, and above—and sales, including Saturday's business after hours, foot up 8,250 bales. This selling by factors should cause buying of futures by them to take in the shorts they had covered their spot holdings with, and may give contracts a steadier tone. Futures closed dull; sales 11,000. January, 8.98@8.09; February, 9.08@9.10; March, 9.18@9.20; April, 9.20@9.30; May, 9.31@9.32; June, 9.34@9.35; July. 9.38@9.40; August, 9.39@9.40; September, 9.12@9.13; October, 8.93@8.94; November, 8.88@8.89; December, 8.89@8.90.

The "Best" Tonic

For convalescents, especially females, and for all patients suffering from enfeebled digestion, a mild Tonic stimulant, one that contains just enough alcohol to stimulate the gastric follicles, and is at the same time nutritious in itself, would seem a most desirable remedy for routine use in every physician's practice, provided such a remedy is palatable enough to make it available for all classes of patients.

Just such a preparation it is claimed is the Concentrated Liquid Extract of Malt and Hops, which is now offered to the profession under the name of The "Best" Tonic, which has recently appeared on sale in most of our drug stores.

A trial will convince as to its palatability and price, and the certificate of analysis by Prof. E. G. Love, of New York city, seems to give unquestionable evidence of its therapeutic value.

THE GREAT EVENT.

Two Grand Tragedies at DeGive's Opera House This Week.

Atlanta theater-goers will be treated to two fine performances at DeGive's opera house this week. The Thornton-O'Brien company will present "Othello" on Wednesday night, and on Thursday night "The Fool's Revenge." The company is a mingling of professional and amateur talent—the best in Atlanta, and both plays will be given in splendid style.

The costumes arrived yesterday from Cincinnati, and the dress rehearsal of Othello last night would have done credit to a professional troupe.

All the dresses are rich and handsome, and showed off the troupe to advantage. The following is Not Kimball House Waiters.

Thomas H. Frazier, the head waiter at the Kimball, desires to state that the waiters mentioned in an article from a Fresno, Cal., paper, printed in yesterday's CONSTITUTION, were not Kimball house waiters. The waiters who went to Fresno to work for Mr. May were collected in Atlanta, but did not come from the Kimball. Frazier says the waiters in his employ do not bear such reputations, and he is sorry that a paper, even in way-off California, should have made such a misstatement. Frazier employs all the dining-room help for the Kimball and has no disorderly negroes, as those who went to California seem to have been.

HAMMOND, Ga., September 15, 1887.

Canadian Catarrh Cure Co.:

Gentlemen—My wife was a great sufferer with Catarrh for over two years. She has been a little troubled ever since she was a child with the disease. About two years ago we were in Mississippi, and while there she was taken down with catarrhal fever; we had three of the best physicians we could get. They broke the fever and left her the worst case of catarrh of the head I ever saw. Her nose ran profusely, and for a year I despaired of her ever getting well. I tried several doctors and they could not cure her, and used every catarrh remedy I could hear of. I spent over $50 the past year for remedies, and all to no effect. At last it became so offensive that you could hardly remain where she was. I offered $1,000 to any doctor who would cure her (and that would have left us homeless), but I would not have cared for that if she could only be cured. We saw an advertisement in the Atlanta Constitution of "Canadian Catarrh Cure," and thought we would try it, and went to your office, when you gave my wife a small sample bottle of your remedy, and told us to come and get a large bottle when that was out. I bought the large bottle, and before she had used all of the bottle she was entirely well, and her health fully restored, and now does more work than any woman I know. She used the medicine over six months ago, and there has not been the slightest return or the disease. I hope everybody that has catarrh may find you and be cured. I am a traveling man and have told a great many of your wonderful cure. Yours truly,

W. J. ALBRITTAN.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The stock market was very active and firm at the opening this morning, most of the list being small fractions above the closing figures of Saturday, and with the exception of a small setback in the first hour and shading off toward the close the market continued to advance throughout the entire day. The prevailing sentiment was bullish and buying by commission houses was in excess of anything seen during the present advance, and in spite of free realizations in all parts of the list, with unfavorable western rumors circulated, it was sufficient to keep prices moving upward nearly all day. Richmond Terminal was the first stock to come to the front, and after gains of nearly 1 per cent the general advance was checked and a reaction occurred, caused by free selling of traders and rumors of trouble in the west, grangers being the weakest stock on the list. There was little decline, however, and the price of stocks soon took an upward move, Pacific Mail being the most prominent before noon. Gould stocks, which had been quite weak early, rapidly recovered, and coal stocks then came to the front. Lackawanna was very strong in the afternoon and several special movements served to infuse new life into the general list. Union Pacific was strong throughout. Among the specialties Wheeling and Lake Erie was the most conspicuous for strength on the action of the company at its meeting on Saturday, when a dividend was declared on the stock which has been made preferred. Omaha also was very strong, and rumors circulated it was to be consolidated with the Northwestern and a dividend declared on the common stock, and though both rumors received official denial that stock advanced materially. The upward movement was noticed in the last half hour by free realizations, but prices were very stubborn and the impression made upon them was insignificant. The close was firm at or near the best figures of the day. Tennessee Coal was up 2 per cent, Wheeling and Lake Erie 1¾, Omaha 1⅛ and others fractional amounts. Total sales 359,000 shares.

Exchange quiet but steady to firm at 487@488. Money easy at 2@, closing offered at 3. Subtreasury balances: Coin $131,227,000; currency, $13,369,000. Governments active and strong; 4s 125, 4½s 107¼. State bonds dull but steady.

NEW YORK, April 23—Hubbard, Price & Co., in their circular today, say: Responding to better Liverpool advices our market for certificates opened at an advance of four points for the old and two points for the new crop. Transactions did not exceed the average amount of trading to which we have became accustomed during the present dullness of trade, the principal dealings being depressed by selling June and buying August at a difference of fifteen points. The movement of receipts at all ports increased sellers, and prices were shaded, closing about two points above Saturday's quotations. The demand for export continues good, and actual sales are above the figures officially reported.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 23—[Special.]—At the opening on 'change this morning wheat again took the lead in activity and strength. The opening for May was ⅜c better than the close Saturday, and by 11 o'clock had sold up ⅜c additional. The visible supply report showed a decrease of only 347,000 bushels—about half as much as expected, and this had a tendency to weaken the market. May sold ⅜c, closing with a reaction of ⅛c, or a decline of ⅛c on the day.

May corn closed within a fraction of Saturday close and at this morning's opening price. The range for the day was ⅝c in May and slightly less in the other futures.

Oats were weak and lower from the opening, and closed ⅜c lower for all futures.

Trading in provisions was fair and chiefly in lard and short ribs. Shorts were inclined to buy lard, and prices advanced 15c. May short ribs sold at 7.22½@7.30. One operator bought 1,000,000 pounds. Pork was quiet, and closed 12½c lower.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO the Superior Court of Said County: The petition of the trustees of the Young Men's Christian association, of Atlanta, Georgia, a corporation under the laws of said state, composed of the following named individuals, to-wit: James W. Harle, Frank P. Rice, Henry W. Grady, William A. Haygood, Evan P. Howell, W. Woods White, J. W. English, S. M. Inman, M. C. Kiser, B. H. Hill, William T. Newman, Paul Romare, C. A. Collier, A. L. Green, E. P. Chamberlin, J. W. Rankin, W. L. Peel, H. A. Fuller, A. D. Adair and Henry Hillyer, respectfully showeth: That your petitioner was incorporated by the judgment of this court on the 29th day of July, 1885, upon proper proceedings had for that purpose, according to law.

Your petitioner shows that the charter granted to it on said 29th day of July, 1885, contains a provision that your petitioner "is not to have power to encumber the whole, or any part, of the property held by it." This restriction goes beyond the terms of the donations and subscriptions out of which the fund arose, which your petitioner was created to hold and manage for the erection of a building for the Young Men's Christian association in Atlanta, as set forth in the petition for said charter.

Among the terms prescribed by the donors of said fund, is a provision that your petitioner shall not have power to mortgage, or encumber the building, which was contemplated by said donors, after said building should be paid for. Your petitioner says that the manifest intention of this language was to provide that, if necessary, a mortgage, or other encumbrance might be put on said building before it was paid for, in order to complete, or finish paying for the same, and that said restriction in the charter is in conflict with the plain and manifest intention of said donors. In order to finish and pay for the building, which your petitioner has now partly completed, in accordance with the powers and duties imposed upon it, and which building is located on the corner of Pryor and Wheat streets, in the city of Atlanta, it will be necessary to borrow a sum not exceeding thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars; and, for that purpose, to issue notes or bonds secured by mortgage, or deed of trust, upon said building.

Your petitioner prays that its said charter be amended by striking therefrom said restriction upon your petitioner's power to encumber its property, and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Said corporation shall have power—and it is hereby fully authorized at any time before its building on the southeast corner of Pryor and Wheat streets, in the city of Atlanta, is paid for, but not afterwards—to borrow such amount of money, not exceeding thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars, as shall be necessary to complete said building, and pay for the same, and for the purpose of borrowing said money, to issue notes or bonds in such denominations as to said corporation may seem proper, not to exceed in the aggregate the said sum of thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars, and at a rate of interest not to exceed seven per cent per annum, and with expense of collecting, including ten per cent for attorney's fees in case of suit; to execute such mortgage, or deed of trust, on said building and other property of the coporation as may be considered necessary, to secure the payment of said notes or bonds, and the interest thereon, with all said necessary expenses of collection including ten per cent for attorney's fees, in case of suit as aforesaid, provided that none of said bonds shall be issued, nor any loan effected, or mortgage, or deed of trust executed, unless the same shall be ordered, by a resolution passed at the meeting of said corporation, at which at least fifteen members shall be present.

HENRY HILLYER,
Attorney for Petitioner.

To Arrange for the Celebration of the Centennial of Presbyterianism at the Mass Meeting in June.

Beginning on the evening of Tuesday, the 12th of June, the Presbyterians of Georgia will hold a series of meetings at the Central Presbyterian church in this city.

Great interest is felt in this by members of the church throughout the state.

At meetings held in the First Presbyterian church of this city on the 4th of April and on yesterday, the following resolutions were adopted and are now given to the public:

That a mass meeting of Presbyterians throughout the state of Georgia be held at the Central Presbyterian church of Atlanta, Ga., on Tuesday, June 12, 1888, at eight o'clock p. m., and to continue in session for three (3) days for the purpose of celebrating the centennial of Presbyterianism and for the consideration of the ways and means for establishing a Presbyterian university in the state of Georgia.

Order of exercises—Address of welcome by Rev. E. H. Barnett, D. D.

1. Opening address by Rev. G. B. Strickler, D. D., Atlanta, Ga.—Subject: Presbyterian Doctrine.
2. Presbyterianism and Education in Georgia—Colonel Charles C. Jones, of Augusta, Ga.
3. Presbyterianism and Republican Government—Judge J. T. Nisbet and Hon. Clifford Anderson.
4. Presbyterian Polity—Rev. George T. Goetchius, Rome, Ga.
5. Adaptation of Presbyterianism to the Masses—Rev. William Adams, D. D., Augusta, and Judge Howard Van Epps, Atlanta.
6. Denominational Colleges—Rev. John J. Robinson, D. D., Roswell, Ga.

The following named gentlemen are suggested as participants in the discussions, and many others can doubtless be induced to attend and take part: Governor John B. Gordon, Major Campbell Wallace, Colonel P. L. Mynatt, Atlanta; General D. H. Hill, Milledgeville, Ga.; Hon. Joel A. Billups, Madison, Ga.; Hon. Milton A. Candler, Decatur, Ga.; Major Beeman, Sparta, Ga.; Colonel Moore, Dalton, Ga.; John Peabody, Columbus, Ga.; John Temple Graves, Rome, Ga.; Judge J. J. Gresham, Dr. J. P. Stevens, Macon, and Judge J. A SPICY CASE.

A Petition for Pardon and Some Salty Affidavits Submitted to Governor Gordon.

Governor Gordon issued an order yesterday suspending the sentence of Mary Hunt, colored, until further orders from the executive department.

The order recites that Mary Hunt was convicted of misdemeanor at the August term, 1887, of Fulton superior court, that she was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 or to serve twelve months in the chaingang, that the fine was reduced to $100 by Judge Van Epps and that the suspension of the sentence is made because of an application for executive clemency.

The application is in the form of a petition for pardon, written by the girl herself and accompanied by numerous affidavits.

The gist of the petition is that she was convicted on the false testimony of Washington Cobb, colored, the principal witness for the prosecution.

In her affidavit Mary Johnson, colored, affirms that Washington Cobb stated to her after the trial that he swore lies against Mary Hunt, and that Dr. Smith, the dentist, paid him to do it.

Mattie Trice, colored, makes affidavit that Washington Cobb stated in her presence after the trial that he swore lies against Mary Hunt, that Dr. Smith promised to pay him for his evidence, and that if Dr. Smith did not pay him he intended to give him a whipping.

In his affidavit Gordon Gresham, colored, says that Washington Cobb said in his presence that he was paid by Doctor Smith for swearing lies in the case and that if he had been wise he could have gotten $1,000 from him for his false evidence. It will be remembered that the supreme court affirmed the decision of the court below in this case the other day.

Washington Cobb, the negro witness, upon whose testimony it is claimed that the girl was convicted, took French leave of the city several months ago.

CAPITOL AND CUSTOM HOUSE.

Current Items in the Various Departments Yesterday.

GOVERNOR GORDON DREW several important warrants on the state treasury yesterday.

A WARRANT WAS drawn in favor of Treasurer T. T. Windsor, of the State Lunatic Asylum, for $17,500, the monthly allowance for that institution.

A WARRANT FOR $4,000 was drawn in favor of Treasurer H. L. Jewett, of the Academy for the Blind, for its support during the second quarter.

A WARRANT FOR $2,500 was drawn in favor of the state agricultural department, the allowance for the second quarter.

COMMISSIONS WERE ISSUED yesterday to J. B. C. Quillian as county school commissioner of Douglas county; Daniel Walker as county school commissioner of Coweta county; James F. Goodman as county school commissioner of Berrien county; Isaiah Williams as member of the board of education of Dooly county; and to A. J. Logan as member of the board of education of Dawson county.

STATE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER HOOK has gone to Augusta on business.

THESE ITEMS WERE recorded in the comptroller-general's office yesterday: General taxes, Harralson county, $1,312; dividends amounting to $275 on the stock of the Southern and Atlantic Telegraph company. THE LOWRY BANKING COMPANY.

A New Institution to Succeed An Old and Successful One.

There has just been issued a prospectus of the Lowry Banking company, of Atlanta, which is to succeed the firm of W. M. & R. J. Lowry, bankers.

The authorized capital will be $600,000, and the paid in capital $300,000.

Below is the prospectus:

TO THE PUBLIC.

For the past twenty-six years we have been in active business in Atlanta, and have been largely interested and identified with her people in every way. During that time we have had a liberal share of the business of this section, and to those who have given us their confidence and patronage we are most grateful. On May 1st, 1888, our business will merge into the Lowry Banking company. We retain control of the stock, and continue in its employ our old force of employes, many of whom have grown up to manhood in our service. We trust our old friends and correspondents will give to the Lowry Banking company that same generous confidence and support they have always given to us.

Yours truly, W. M. & R. J. LOWRY.

Atlanta, Ga., April 10th, 1888.

The following are the officers:

J. H. Porter, president of the Merchants' bank; R. C. Clarke, of T. M. Clarke & Co., wholesale hardware; Thos. D. Meador, of Oglesby & Meador, wholesale grocers; Robert J. Lowry, late of W. M. & R. J. Lowry, bankers; Joel Hurt, secretary of the Atlanta Home Insurance company.

DEATH OF MR. WARDLAW SMITH.

The Junior Member of the Firm of Milledge & Smith Dies in South Carolina.

A telegram was received yesterday morning from Abbeville, S. C., stating that Mr. Lewis Wardlaw Smith died there the night before.

This will be sad news to the members of the Atlanta bar and others in this city who knew Mr. Smith. Heart disease was the cause of his death. He had been suffering with this ailment for several years, and was compelled to give up his law practice entirely a few months ago.

Soon after coming to Atlanta, about fifteen months ago, Mr. Smith formed a copartnership with Captain John Milledge for the practice of law. He soon distinguished himself by his able management of an important case in the supreme court. He quickly made a reputation as a brilliant and careful lawyer, and was held in the highest esteem by his brother attorneys.

One of Mr. Smith's closest friends was Mr. Walter Gregory, who asks THE CONSTITUTION to publish the subjoined tribute:

"Just one year ago Lewis Wardlaw Smith moved to Atlanta, full of life, hope and ambition. Today he is lying dead at the home of his widowed mother, in Abbeville, South Carolina.

Dead—and only twenty-eight years old.

He would not approve one word of that formal sort with which people write of the dead. If he could speak, he would say—write nothing.

But, just as his spirit is with his God, so is his record with us. If he had lived a selfish or wicked life, we would write nothing. We would extend to him the charity of our silence. He was the son of Colonel Augustus M. Smith, who was killed in the battle of Gaines' mill, and was a grandson of Judge Lewis Wardlaw, for many years a supreme judge in South Carolina.

The knowledge of this ancestry served only to make him pure in his tastes and high in his aspirations.

Before moving here he was the law partner of the Hon. W. C. Benet, known to the people of Atlanta as "Anxious Inquirer."

He made friends here with remarkable rapidity. He was not acrid, as are so many smart, aggressive men.

Notwithstanding the legend, I doubt if Hannibal removed the rocks that obstructed his passage over the Alps with vinegar.

Wardlaw was social and genial in his nature, thoughtful of other people; kind, considerate and unselfish; manly, in every sense, and yet gentle as a woman. During the short time he was here he was the partner of Captain John Milledge, who had the highest opinion of his mental force, energy and attainments. The first time he appeared before our supreme court one of its justices complimented him in the highest terms and predicted a great future for him.

Those who knew him best were they who valued him highest and loved him most.

He was dear to us as a brother. His home is here in these sad hearts of ours.

The recital of these simple facts is enough to say of him. To drift into commonplace praise would be unworthy the man.

WALTER GREGORY.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Reception Tonight—Other Items of Interest.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association, the railway department, will give a reception tonight at the rooms, No. 19½ South Forsyth street, to Mr. H. F. Williams, international railway secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and to Mr. E. W Watkins, visiting secretary of the international committee.

Mr. Watkins comes from Charlotte, N. C., where he was in attendance on the state convention of the Y. M. C. A.

The reception tonight will be largely attended. An excellent musical and literary programme has been arranged.

Professor Walter S. Bonbright, the eminent elocutionist of Philadelphia, will give several of his choicest recitations. Of Professor Bonbright Mr. P. S. Gilmore said: "He equals in dramatic force and artistic expression anybody I ever heard. He is a great elocutionist."

"I have never seen his equal."—John W. Forney.

"Sympathy with all he says."—F. B. Pugh, originator of Star Course.

"Was charmed with his high powers of elocution."—Senator John S. Williams, of Kentucky.

"Wonderful versatility and dramatic force."—John R. Clemons, Centenial organist.

"Possesses very rare powers of elocution."—John A. Logan.

Mr. W. R. Bosard, railroad secretary of the railroad branch of the Young Mens' Christian association returned yesterday from Charlotte, where he had gone to present the railroad work to the state convention. The little town of Charlotte has erected a beautiful building valued at $18,000, for the use of the Young Mens' Christian association of that place. The North Carolina state convention was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in that state. One hundred and thirty delegates were present. The convention raised $1,500 for the employing of a state secretary to supervise the work in that state.

A SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Adeline Williams Seeks a Legal Separation from Her Husband.

There was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the superior court a libel for divorce.

In the petition, Mrs. Adeline Williams alleges that she was married to Marcus J. Williams, the 14th of January, 1873. She lived with her husband until the latter part of December, 1883, when he refused to support her, and deserted her. Since then he has failed to provide for her.

The suit is in the hands of Mr. Frank R. Walker.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore, take it now.

THE THIRD PARTY.

The State Convention Will Meet Today.

Something About the Preliminaries and an Interview With Rev. Sam Small—What They Propose to Do.

The state convention of the national prohibitionists will meet at the state capitol, in representatives' hall, at noon today. There was a very large and enthusiastic meeting of the party club last night at which the preliminaries for the convention today were arranged. The reports made by delegates arrived, and gathered from letters and telegrams to Rev. Sam Small, the national organizer for the state, indicate that the convention will be largely attended and very representative. Hundreds of men are sending in their names for enrollment and pledging themselves to co-operate with the party in this state and in the country at large.

Enthusiasm last night was greatly heightened by energetic speeches by Hon. A. A. Murphey, of Barnesville; Captain W. R. Hanleiter, of Griffin; Rev. Sam Small, and Bishop H. M. Turner.

There will be a business session of the convention at noon to perfect its organization and appoint committees to prepare the work of the body. The second session will convene at 7:30 p. m., at which the platform committee will report, the executive committee for the state be selected, the delegates to the national convention at Indianapolis elected and the presidential electors chosen. Music and speechmaking will enliven the convention, and the general public is invited to be present at the sessions. The galleries will be open to the public, while the floor of the house will be reserved for the recognized delegates.

It is understood that Hon. A. A. Murphey, of Pike county, will be the president of the convention, and Captain Hanleiter, of Spalding county, will be secretary.

The convention will name twenty-four of its strongest adherents as the delegation to Indianapolis, to be headed, in all probability, by Rev. Sam Small.

Mr. Small was seen last night, after the club meeting, and said:

"I cannot outline for you in advance the action of the convention. We are met to discuss and determine for ourselves our actions with reference to the one question of prohibition as a state and national issue. Upon the irreconcilable issues of old parties we have no declarations to make. We are not office-mongers and are not bankering after places. We want prohibition from one end of Georgia to the other, over every inch of her territory. Then we want it over the entire union in the same intense and absolute style. All our actions with reference to candidates and campaigns will depend upon the best interests of the prohibition issue, as we understand and insist upon it. We invite all parties to come and hear what we have to say and understand what we propose to do."

THE MAY CONVENTION,

The Georgia Temperance Association to Meet in Atlanta May 8th.

The Georgia Temperance association will hold an interesting convention in this city on the 8th day of May next.

The following will be the order of exercises on that occasion:

The convention will be called to order by President Pringle, of Washington county. Then there will be prayer by Dr. J. B. Hawthorne, of the First Baptist church. An address of welcome by Rev. H. C. Morrison, of the First Methodist church, to which there will be responses by Rev. H. K. Walker of DeKalb county, Rev. D. D. Cranoliver, of Clarke county, and Mrs. W. C. Sibley, of Augusta, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Then will come ten minute addresses by the members of the association.

At night there will be a mass meeting at which addresses will be delivered by Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, Rev. J. G. Gibson, of Oglethorpe county, Hon. W. H. Felton or Mr. Henry W. Grady.

JUDGE HILLYER'S OPINION.

What a Leading Atlanta Prohibitionist Says About the Third Party.

"There is considerable discussion over the proposed third party movement in Georgia, says the Tribune of Rome.

"Judge George Hillyer, recently mayor of Atlanta, and one of her most distinguished and prominent citizens, was in Rome yesterday. He was mayor during the reign of prohibition, and is a very influential man in his party.

"A reporter of the Tribune met him at the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia depot in East Rome yesterday afternoon, and asked him for his views on the third party movement. He replied:

"The prohibition sentiment is in overwhelming majority in the republican party, and embraces probably two-thirds of the democratic party in the state of Georgia. What do we want with a third party?"

"I do not blame temperance men in states like New York and New Jersey, where whisky men for a great extent predominate in both the old parties, for being restless and dissatisfied. But the case is widely different here in Georgia. With us we have got all our own way in both parties. Altogether we have had a clear, overwhelming, reliable temperance majority in every legislature, and what more do we want?

"If the temperance men run a third candidate in any considerable number of the counties it would simply divide our strength, and greatly endanger our strength in the next legislature. We should let well enough alone.

"The whisky men may need a third party, but we do not. I have a great respect for some of the men moving in the formation of a new party, but I am opposed to it."

Coming from such a man as Judge Hillyer this opinion cannot fail to have great weight, and is no doubt the sense of the conservative portion of the prohibitionists in Georgia."

The Supreme Court.

The supreme court was in session yesterday. The Atlanta circuit has been completed, and the Stone Mountain circuit engaged the court yesterday.

The United States Circuit Court.

In the case of J. T. Leslie, colored, convicted last week of passing counterfeit money, the motion for arrest of judgment was sustained, the indictment quashed, and the prisoner remanded to jail to await the action of the grand jury, to meet May 1st. Several cases, set for trial yesterday, were continued on account of the sickness of Mr. Hoke Smith, of counsel.

The County Courthouse.

The criminal branch of the superior court, Judge Richard H. Clark presiding, was in session only a short while yesterday, when it adjourned until June 1st. The jurors were all discharged and paid for their services, and all the unfinished business was sent over to the next term.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke's court ran out of business early yesterday morning, and adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

The city court will meet next Monday, when the civil docket will be taken up.

JUDGE J. S. POPE.

His Reappointment as Judge of the County Court of Pike.

Yesterday Governor Gordon commissioned Judge J. S. Pope as judge of the county court of Pike county for four years from the 19th of this month.

Judge Pope becomes his own successor. He has held the position for eight years, and has made a most excellent official.

There was a contest for this judgeship.

A strong petition was sent to the governor signed by a number of the leading anti-prohibitionists of Pike, warmly recommending Mr. H. L. Whitaker for the place. Mr. Whitaker is an excellent gentleman, and is a s roug anti-prohibitionist.

The petition asking the re-appointment of Judge Pope was a very strong one. It was signed by prominent prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists alike, all of whom earnestly urged the claims of Judge Pope, who is a pronounced prohibitionist.

Governor Gordon, in re-appointing Judge Pope, ignored the question of prohibition entirely, making the appointment in view of his splendid record as judge of the county court for the past eight years.
